See easy Senate OK for Rocky

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller today was assured of easy Senate approval to be the nation's 41st vice president.

Despite opposition from conservative Republicans, including Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Rockefeller was hailed in Senate debate Monday on both sides of the aisle as "highly qualified" to hold the country's second highest office.

The Senate vote was scheduled later today.

The House Judiciary Committee is expected to clear the nomination later this week, with the full House voting on final confirmation next week.

Goldwater said he would vote against the 66-year-old multi-millionaire because Rockefeller had used his vast wealth to buy "political power." Rockefeller opposed Goldwater for the 1964 presidential nomination.

Goldwater said he had planned to vote for the former New York governor but changed his mind as a result of disclosures that Rockefeller had given more than $2.5 million in gifts and loans to political associates and friends.

In a letter to President Ford, Goldwater said Rockefeller had used his fortune "to accomplish the purchase of political power."

"In my opinion, there exists in this country a strong suspicion that the tremendous financial power of the Rockefeller family might have a corrupting influence on the political process," he said.

"Our nation and our party will be better served by the selection of a younger man —one who would not carry the burden of suspicion which is clearly in the public mind regarding the power of the Rockefeller fortune," Goldwater said.

Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the Rules Committee, said Rockefeller had undergone "the greatest indepth confirmation inquiry" ever carried out by the Senate.

He said Rockefeller had "in all critical areas of concern fully met the reasonable tests and standards that the Congress should apply."

Many senators, including Assistant Democratic Leader Robert Byrd, W.Va., said they had "reservations" about the possibility for conflict of interest arising from Rockefeller's vast holdings, but would vote for him because the country has gone too long without a vice president.

Cannon said Rockefeller's offer to place his holdings in a blind trust was "meaningless" because of its size and diversity. Public disclosure of his holdings would act as a check against conflict, he said.

U.N. will keep units in South Korea for now

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The General Assembly's Political Committee has decided to maintain the U.N. presence in South Korea for the time being, but has called for dissolution of the force "in due course."

The United States, which barely managed to turn back a Communist-led campaign to oust the U.N. command, finally won support for a watered down resolution suggesting an eventual pullout.

The committee approved the U.S.-backed motion 61 to 42 Monday night despite heated objections of the Soviet bloc, China and third world countries. Thirty-two nations refrained from voting.

The resolution expressed hope the Security Council "will in due course give consideration" to "the dissolution of the United Nations command."

The motion also called on North and South Vietnam to keep up a "dialogue to expedite the peaceful reunification" of their divided peninsula.

The U.N. command, which included troops from 16 countries at the height of the Korean Conflict, is now made up of 38,000 American soldiers and token units from Britain and the Philippines.

The political committee, in a 48-48 tie vote, turned down a Communist-backed resolution calling for the removal of all foreign forces from South Korea "under the United Nations flag."

The United States and South Korea have expressed willingness to have the U.N. troops withdraw, but only when a suitable alternative arrangement is agreed on.

The United States claims the command must maintain its troop strength in South Korea to keep minor violations from leading to more serious conflict.

Government refiles suit

Monopoly charged of 3 television networks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department today filed new civil antitrust suits charging the three major networks with illegally monopolizing air time with entertainment programs which they produce themselves.

Attorney General William B. Saxbe said the separate suits filed against the American Broadcasting Companies, Inc., the National Broadcasting Co., Inc. and CBS, Inc. were similar to 1972 suits which were dismissed by a federal court in Los Angeles Nov. 13.

The court dismissed the suits "without prejudice" so they could be filed again after network lawyers argued the 1972 litigation was a political reprisal by the White House for network reporting that was unfavorable to the Nixon administration.

Assistant Attorney General Thomas E. Kauper in charge of the antitrust division said the suits were filed to restore competitive programming in the television industry so that viewers and advertisers would not be deprived of the benefits of full competition.

The suits asked for court injunctions to prevent the networks from obtaining financial interest in any entertainment programs produced by others except for the first-run right of exhibition, prohibit syndication of entertainment programs, prohibit transmitting any television programs they produced themselves and prohibit them from using their control of broadcast time to block competition in any other field.

The Justice Department said the three networks spent more than $1 billion for television programs in 1973 and received revenues exceeding $1.4 billion.

Interest rate cutbacks hike stock market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices increased on the New York Stock Exchange today in fairly active trading, apparently in response to a decline in interest rates.

Chase Manhattan Bank today joined other lending institutions in lowering its prime rate — that charged key corporate customers —to 10¼ per cent from 10½ per cent.

The Federal Reserve Board paved the way for this action by lowering its discount rate to 7¾ from 8 per cent Monday. The discount rate is the rate the FED charges its member banks for loans.

Noting that the market lost heavily last week, some analysts said investors were recouping some of those losses. The action was in the chemicals, oils and glamors.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which reached a 12-year low Friday, was ahead 9.78 at 589.72 at 11 a.m. The average gained more than 2 points Monday.

The first-hour turnover amounted to around 3.8 million shares, compared with 3.5 million traded during the same period Monday.

Economist feels 15% food price rise to continue through first half of '75

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumers can expect food prices to continue rising at an annual rate of 15 per cent through the first half of next year, partly because supplies have been reduced by this year's poor crops, an Agriculture Department economist predicted today.

But the food picture for 1975 as a whole depends heavily on whether farm crops make a hoped-for recovery next year, USDA official J. Dawson Ahalt said in a speech prepared for delivery to the department's annual Outlook Conference.

He said in an interview that good crops could produce a 1975 grocery bill averaging less than 10 per cent above 1974 —but another poor crop could push the annual average more than 15 per cent above this year.

Grocery store food prices for 1974 as a whole are currently expected to average about 15 per cent above 1973 following a 16.3 per cent increase last year.

Ahalt said next year's price increases will be due to a combination of higher raw farm product prices as well as "further advances" in food marketing costs, which accounted for more than 80 per cent of the total 1974 increase in retail food prices.

Ellen Zawel, president of the National Consumers Congress, protested in another speech prepared for the Outlook Conference that "the prospect of another 15 to 20 per cent increase in food prices is mindboggling" and said the government is operating without any coherent national food policy.

She said the government should set up a commission including representatives of the food industry, the Agriculture Department, the Federal Trade Commission and consumer groups to put into effect new cost-cutting systems in the food industry.

Supervisors approve plans for West End bus services

SAN BERNARDINO (CNS) — The Board of Supervisors Monday approved detailed operational plans for interim implementation of a short range county transportation plan — including four West End schedules — which could go into operation early next year.

Plans for a countywide transportation plan were shelved several weeks ago after San Bernardino Mayor W. R. Holcomb told the board that he would not sell the buses used by the San Bernardino Transit System to the county.

The supervisors had planned to continue using the San Bernardino buses in the east valley area, along with several of the county buses, and shift the other county buses to routes that would have formed a complete bus transportation system.

A report from the Public Works Agency administrator, John Bernard, said the cost of implementing the interim plan would be $1,513,723 for the first year.

Barnard noted that a total of $4,934,459 was available to the county from local transportation funds received from the state, but added that expenditure of these funds required approval of the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG).

Fourth District Supervisor Robert Townsend later noted that some of this money might later be used to expand or upgrade the present system. He also said the county would apply to the federal government for funds from the $11 billion transportation allocation recently approved by President Ford.

He said that whatever funds are obtained from this source might later be used to expand or improve the bus transportation system.

The west valley area also will receive seven buses and will be assigned a total of 20 employes. Total cost for the operation in this area for the four planned bus routes is expected to be $574,130.

The West End cities — most of which have not yet reached an agreement with the county for the operation of a bus system — were sent letters last week suggesting that they enter into a short term contract with the county which would expire on July 1, 1975.

Under proposed terms of the contract, the individual cities would reimburse the county during that period for operational costs only at the rate of 86 cents per mile.

County Transportation Director John Shone, who sent the letter at the direction of the board, said he hoped that during the contractural period the cities and the county could work out acceptable joint powers agreements.

Britain okays tough, energy-saving program

LONDON (UPI) — The government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson has announced a tough, energy-saving program aimed at cutting $1.5 billion from Britain's annual fuel bill.

The mandatory emergency program, which goes into effect at midnight Saturday, reduces speed limits on Britain's highways and lowers thermostats in public buildings.

Energy Secretary Eric Varley told Parliament Monday the program would reduce fuel consumption in Britain by 10 per cent and cut the nation's massive oil import bill.

"There is no doubt that substantial savings are possible," he said.

Varley said the government hoped the energy cuts would save $1.5 billion in fuel imports and lead to "a major contribution to our national well-being and future."

The 12-point plan fell short, however, of the drastic measures taken last winter when the government put industry on a three-day work week at the height of the Arab oil embargo.

Varley said the new program included a 50 mile-an-hour speed limit on two-lane highways and a 60 mile-an-hour rate on four-lane highways. The speed limits on freeways, built for high-speed travel, will remain at 70 mph.

The government restricted electric advertising to daylight hours and limited public buildings to a maximum temperature of 68 degrees.

Varley warned that stiffer mandatory controls on energy consumption might be imposed in the future if the present program fails.

He also predicted a sharp increase in the price of gasoline. The government tripled gas taxes a month ago. Economic sources predicted the price would rise from $1.20 to $1.85 a gallon.

In addition to its economic woes, Britain has also been plagued by increased bombings attributed to the Irish Republican Army.

An explosion blew out windows and damaged stores Monday in a shopping arcade in downtown Bath, 110 miles west of London. There were no reported injuries.

Authorities said a man with an Irish accent called police 20 minutes before the blast to warn of a bomb planted in the area.

Columnist predicts Kissinger to resign 'sometime' in 1975

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Nationally syndicated columnist James Reston predicted Monday Secretary of State Henry Kissinger will resign from President Ford's cabinet sometime in 1975.

"My guess is Kissinger will go on his own because his whole concept of a nonpartisan base of foreign diplomacy will be destroyed if he becomes deeply involved in the 1976 election," said Reston, speaking at the Cincinnati Jewish Center.

Reston said he did not believe Kissinger will want to become embroiled in such a campaign.

"Ford probably will not be able to campaign on the economy and that will leave foreign policy," Reston said. "If Kissinger stays, he is bound to be caught up in that strategy."

Pilot drugged

Police say stolen airplane may have crashed in Mexico

La Verne police, U.S. Customs authorities and the Riverside County Sheriff's Department are investigating the reported theft during the weekend of a $50,000 airplane rented at Brackett Field.

Officials today said the missing airplane may be one reported buzzing back and forth across the U.S.-Mexico border Sunday and which was believed to have crashed somewhere in Mexico.

The aircraft is a twin-engine Cherokee Six, belonging to Pomona Valley Aviation at Brackett Field.

La Verne Police Lt. D. F. Griggs gave this account:

A San Diego man, Sandor Zoboki, 30, rented the airplane and flew it to an airstrip at the north shore of Salton Sea. At the resort he met several persons who wanted to go flying with him and offered to share expenses.

Zoboki and his companions went on a picnic in the desert near the airstrip during which, he said, he apparently was drugged. When he awoke, the airplane and his companions were gone.

Chaffey High trustees set tax, election votes

A combined tax override and school board election will be held March 4 for Chaffey Union High School District, it was decided by the school board Monday night.

Property owners tax bills would be increased, it is estimated, by $.5442 per $100 assessed valuation in 1975-76, $.6981 in 1977-78 and $.8342 in 1977-78 if the tax proposal passes.

Trustee James Garliepp and Robert Bonde are the members of the board whose terms of office will expire in March. Candidates must file for the election by Jan. 3.

The tax override proposal adopted by the board for the general program and first priority building improvement needs is for the following amounts by year: 1975-76, an increase in the authorized base revenue limit per average daily attendance of $1,278.40 by $172, for a total of $1,450.40; 1976-77 an increase of the base limit of $1,332.17 by $239, for a total of $1,571.17; 1977-78 an increase of the $1,390.36 limit by $293, for a total of $1,683.36.

First priority building needs covered in the tax election include: at Chaffey High School, completion of north hall; south hall basement classroom development; roof, ceilings, electrical and lighting improvements in tower hall; leasing of a warehouse; at Alta Loma High, P.E. locker room addition and industrial arts and classroom additions.

Judge dismisses charge of murder against woman

A judge has dismissed a charge of murder against a 60-year old Ontario woman accused of shooting her 45-year-old boyfriend in Ontario Oct. 12.

Judge Martin Hildreth of the West Valley Municipal Court last week, following a closed preliminary hearing for Lula Hellen, 60, said that there was good evidence that the defendant shot Roland Morton, 45, of 755 N. Palmetto Ave., in self-defense and denied a motion by Deputy Dist. Atty. James Foust to hold the woman for trial on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Hellen was arrested on Oct. 12 by Ontario police investigating the fatal shooting of Morton. According to one witness, Mrs. Hellen and Morton fought often in public. On that Saturday, according to the witness, just prior to the shooting Morton and Mrs. Hellen had been arguing loudly about money. The witness reported that Mrs. Hellen was chased around the apartment buildings by Morton wielding an axe. Another witness said that Morton was chasing and hitting Mrs. Hellen with a newspaper.

Foust said that the case has not been closed altogether. He said that the district attorney's office now has four alternatives in the case. The district attorney has the option of seeking a grand jury indictment against Mrs. Hellen charging murder; appealing Judge Hildreth's ruling; seeking new charges against the woman; or allowing the dismissal to stand. Foust said authorities have yet to make a decision.

Man paralyzed in bar fight; two men, woman arrested

Two men and a woman were in jail this morning in connection with the beating Monday of a 61-year-old security guard.

The incident occurred at the Mayfair Cocktail Lounge, 290 S. Garey Ave., Pomona. The victim, Clarence Paul Martinez, 253 S. Indian Hill Blvd., Claremont, was reported in serious condition today.

Authorities said Martinez was paralyzed from the neck down as the result of a spinal injury. He also had facial, head and internal injuries. Martinez was under care in the Pomona Valley Community Hospital's intensive care unit today.

Those arrested were James Alvin Marcum, 40, 4241 Evart St., Montclair, the bartender at the Mayfair; Harold Lee Lineberry, 51, 711 W. Seventh St., Pomona, a carpenter; and Jeanette Sue Clemens, 41, 724 W. Second St., Pomona, a nurse. All three were booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Police were summoned to the bar at closing time with the report of an injured person. When they arrived they found Martinez lying in the middle of the floor, his face battered and bloody.

Senior Patrolman Carlos Pina reported that officers at first were told that Martinez had fallen and hit his head, but later a witness said the victim had been beaten.

Firemen were called to the tavern to aid Martinez, who was unconscious. Soon after arrival at the hospital the victim suffered cardiac arrest but was revived there by use of external heart massage.

Police were attempting to locate other witnesses to the incident.

Chaffey College adds classes in self-awareness

Chaffey College has added five day and four night courses to its self-awareness program for the winter quarter beginning Jan. 2.

Three of the day classes will be instructed by Marilyn Barrett: "Divorce American Style," 10 a.m. to noon Mondays; "For Women Only," noon to 2 p.m. Mondays, and "Fear of Failure," noon to 2 p.m. Tuesdays.

The other day classes and their teachers will be "Third World Experience," 10 a.m. to noon Wednesdays, Victor Oliva; and "Love as a Way of Life, 10 a.m. to noon Thursdays, Milton Myers.

The instructors of the night classes, "Understanding Sexuality," 6:30 to 8:20 p.m. Mondays, will be a husband-and-wife team, Donald and Marjorie Wargin.

The remaining three night classes and their instructors will be "For Vets Only," 8:30 to 10:20 p.m. Mondays, John R. Bill; "Exploring Being Single," 8:30 to 10:20 p.m. Tuesdays, Michael McCabe; and "Dreams and You," 6:30 to 8:20 p.m. Wednesdays, Marjorie Wargin.

Winter quarters registration will end Wednesday.

Jury begins deliberations in case of child's death

A Pomona Superior Count jury began deliberations this morning in the trial of Helaman Paul Hintze, 20-year-old man charged with second-degree murder in the death May 21 of a San Dimas child.

The jury was pondering a choice of convictions of the murder charge, or lesser charges of manslaughter, or a verdict of innocent.

Hintze was charged in the death of David Garza, 3, who died of internal injuries allged to have been the result of an attack by the defendant. The victim, one of the sons of Hintze's then-common-law wife, was being cared for by Hintze while the mother was at work.

Hintze, the woman, Gale Garza, and the children lived at 1117 Wehner Lane, a small house destroyed in an explosion and flash fire the day after the child's death. Hintze, who was alone in the house at that time, was burned severely.

During the trial the defense maintained that the child suffered the injuries accidentally, probably in a fall down a hill in San Dimas Park a few days before he died.

Masons to seat officer slate

Gerald D. Hurmence of Pomona will be installed as master of Pomona Masonic Lodge at the annual installation ceremonies tonight at 8 in the Masonic Temple.

Other officers to be installed include: Oliver Fisher, senior warden; Thomas W. Fitch, junior warden; Frank D. Rentchler, treasurer; Glenn A. Dellenbach, secretary; Harold B. Goodpasture, chaplin; Jack H. Devers, senior deacon; George C. R. Foerster, junior deacon; Maiuu A'ce, marshal; Patrick J. Meyers, senior steward; and John E. Childers, tiler.

Ellsberg case counts filed

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Burglary charges were filed Monday against Kevin P. Quinn, 21, Mill Valley, in the theft of government documents and other articles taken from the Mill Valley home of Daniel Ellsberg.

Police said Quinn, who was arrested in another burglary, was linked to the Ellsberg case because he was wearing a pair of after-ski boots that allegedly belonged to Ellsberg.

Police said Quinn also was suspected of trying to extort money from Ellsberg, the key figure in the Pentagon Papers case.

The burglary drew the interest of the U.S. Justice Department when it was learned that some of the stolen papers, now in possession of police, carried security classifications. Ellsberg contends the documents are his personal property and said all have been declassified except for cablegrams still marked top secret.

Those cablegrams, he said, were Pentagon messages giving public relations advice to Gen. William Westmoreland.

Man who confessed to false murders arrested in real one

MODESTO, Calif. (UPI) — Richard Alford, 19, had falsely confessed to several fictitious murders but there was enough in his story today to charge him in the brutal slaying of a 13-year-old girl.

Sheriff's deputies said Alford, son of a former Modesto banker, had been pestering them for almost a year with false confessions.

Police arrested him Monday and charged him with first degree murder, rape, kidnap and sex perversion. On the previous night Alford had visited the homes of several friends, showed them his bloody clothing and truck and boasted, "I killed a girl," detectives said.

At one time during the evening, deputies said the suspect called an ambulance service and told an attendant: "This is crazy. I am the Zodiac," referring to the killer responsible for at least six unsolved murders. He also gave the location where the body of Virginia E. Loughlin could be found, deputies said.

She had been shot twice, then raped and left dead on a peach loading dock near the Stanislaus River.

The victim's companion, Lonnie Jean Merritt, also 13, told officers a man in a truck picked up the girls Sunday night in front of a Modesto bowling alley. He had indicated he would give them a ride to their homes in nearby Oakdale but he stopped the truck on a road near town and ordered them to get out, she said. As they scrambled out of the vehicle and began running, the Merritt girl heard two shots, she told investigators.

She said she climbed a fence and called for help from a farmhouse.

Alford was held without bail in the Stanislaus County Jail awaiting arraignment. Detectives said they doubted he had been involved in the Zodiac killings.

Glenhaven Homes plans Yule party

Glenhaven Homes, a shelter for retarded children in La Verne, will sponsor a Christmas party for exceptional children at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the dining room of La Verne College.

Bob Taylor, activities worker at Glenhaven, said the event is the first of what is expected to become an annual activity.

Crash into 2 parked cars injures driver

A 56-year-old Palm Springs man was injured Monday when a car he was driving crashed into the rear end of a second car parked in the 1100 block of Holt Boulevard in Ontario.

John Earl Allison, 56, was given medical treatment for minor injuries at Ontario Community Hospital and later released. The impact of the collision pushed the parked car into the rear end of another car also parked in the same area. All three vehicles had to be towed away.

Car strikes divider; driver hospitalized

An Upland man was injured Monday night when his car struck a center divider barrier on the San Bernardino Freeway near Monte Vista Avenue, Montclair.

Leonard Nails, 55, of 225 Vallejo Way, was admitted to San Antonio Community Hospital. His condition today is termed fair.

He was driving east on the freeway and swerved to miss another vehicle, said highway patrolmen. His car then hit the barrier, they added.

Burglars haul away 30 Christmas gifts

Thomas Jackson of 953 Richland Ave., Upland, Monday reported to police that burglars broke into his apartment between 2 and 3 p.m. and stole a radio, tape recorder, and typewriter along with approximately 30 Christmas gifts, valued at several hundred dollars.

West End bus plan . . .

routes will be the so-called demand-responsive route in Chino. Annual operating costs for this route are expected to amount to $171,132. The total cost of equipment assigned to this area, including three buses at $23,160 each, amounts to $77,425.

Following are the West End routes approved by the board:

CHINO (Demand-Responsive) — The service provides hourly service in this zone to the City of Chino, some unincorporated county area, the portion of Montclair south of the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks and a small corner of south-west Ontario. The north boundary of the zone is the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks. The eastern edge is Mountain Avenue to south of Ontario High School, then it goes south just east of Cypress Avenue. The southern boundary is a line parallel to H Street in Chino. The western boundary is East End Avenue and the county line.

This hourly limited demand-responsive service is initiated in the first year of the recommended program. The limited destinations will be the Central Business District of Chino, the schools, Chino General Hospital and Montclair Plaza shopping mall. Origins within Montclair and Ontario will also have as a destination the city halls. All originating passengers will have one limited destination, a transfer point to the fixed route service.

CHINO — LOS SERRANOS (Route Deviation) — The hourly service serves a developed area in the unincorporated area southwest of the Chino California Institution for Men. The basic route connects the Los Serranos area with downtown Chino, the hospital, and a transfer point for service to Montclair Plaza and points in between. The route deviation service runs south from a loop at Walnut Avenue on Central Avenue to Los Serranos Road and then follows Monte Vista to Merrill Avenue to connect with Pipe Line Avenue.

The basic route follows Sierra Vista Drive, Country Club Drive, Bird Farm Road and Pomona Rincon Road back to Los Serranos Road. This service as provided in the program is hourly with 13 hours on weekdays and Saturdays and 10 hours of service on Sundays and holidays.

ONTARIO-MONTCLAIR (Fixed Schedule-Fixed Route) — This route starts with a turn-around loop in Ontario using Park Street, Lemon Avenue, Sunkist Avenue and Euclid Avenue. The route traverses Euclid Avenue past the City Hall, through the Central Business District to G Street where it proceeds west to Mountain Avenue to serve Ontario Plaza and other facilities in the vicinity, proceeding on Palo Verde Street into Montclair where it serves Montclair Plaza, three schools, the hospital-medical office area and the dental center using Central Avenue, Moreno Street, Monte Vista Avenue and San Bernardino Street.

This hourly service is initiated in the first year of the recommended program with 13 hours of service on weekdays and Saturdays and 10 hours of Sunday and holiday service.

ALTA LOMA-CUCAMONGA (Fixed Route-Fixed Schedule) — Hourly service is planned to serve a developed area in the unincorporated areas of Cucamonga, Alta Loma and Etiwanda. The western boundary is Cucamonga Creek, the northern boundary is Lemon Street, the eastern boundary is Haven Avenue, and the southern boundary is Eighth Street.

The first year route is as follows: The route commences on Archibald Avenue at Arrow Route and runs north on Archibald Avenue to Foothill Boulevard, west on Foothill Boulevard to Carnelian Street, north on Carnelian Street to Lemon Avenue, east on Lemon Avenue to Beryl Avenue, south on Beryl Avenue to Base Line, east on Base Line to Haven Avenue, north on Haven Avenue to Chaffey College, south on Haven from Chaffey College to 19th Street, west on 19th Street to Archibald Avenue, south on Archibald Avenue to Eighth Street, east on Eighth Street to Turner Avenue, north on Turner Avenue to Arrow Route and west to the terminal at Archibald Avenue and Arrow Route.

The service is hourly for 13 weekday hours and 10 on Saturday, Sunday and holiday hours.

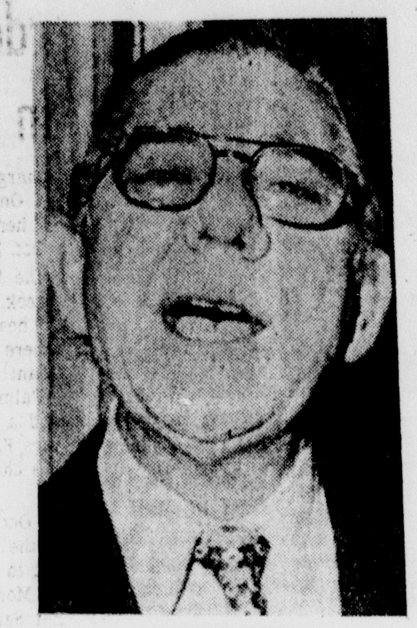
Mills quits powerful post



WILBUR MILLS

By WILLIAM E. CLAYTON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After 16 years in the post, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., has decided to surrender the chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee because of ill health, Speaker Carl Albert said today.

Albert said Mills, long considered one of Congress' leading power brokers, made his decision on the advice of his doctor who is treating the 65-year-old Democrat at Bethesda Naval Hospital for what was described as exhaustion.

Even before the announcement —which was expected — Mills had lost considerable stature in the eyes of his peers after extensive publicity about his friendship with Annabel Battistella, a Washington stripper.

Albert, who spoke with Mills' doctor this morning, said no decision has been made on whether the 18-term lawmaker will resign from either the committee or from Congress.

"He is not going to seek the chairmanship on the committee on Ways and Means," Albert told reporters. "The medical processes have not been completed and may not be for a while.

"His other decisions —staying on the committee or whatever else —will be made later."

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., who is next in line for the committee chairmanship —at least in seniority —has told the Democratic steering committee he wants to take over as chairman. The panel will make its House committee choices as it organizes for the 94th Congress.

Commenting on Mills' decision, Ullman said:

"It is most regrettable that Mr. Mills' health does not allow him to continue in his capacity as chairman. He has had a long and a distinguished career and has made great contributions to the nation. He is one of the foremost tax lawyers in America and an extremely able legislator and chairman, and it has been a wonderful experience to serve under his chairmanship."

BABIES IN THE NEWS

Mrs. Maria Arguellez (left) beams as she takes her "mirror baby" Julian, home from Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena Monday. Julian was born Nov. 18 with all internal organs reversed — his heart on the right, liver on left, etc. Despite abnormality, doctors say Julian will be okay but surgery will be needed for his heart in five years. At right, Mrs. Donald Bentley of Denver, holds her daughter Beth Ann born Monday. So far, all three Bentley children were born Dec. 8. Beth Ann's sister Bobby Jo was born Dec. 8, 1968, and her brother James, Dec. 8, 1970.

Fanne on top of world

Stripper now commanding $15,000 weekly

CASSELBERRY, Fla. (UPI — The "Tidal Basin Bombshell" bombed in Casselberry, a town on the fringes of Disney World which doesn't know much about charismatic politics.

Mrs. Annabel Battistella opened her striptease act at the Club Juana, a night spot known for its exotic entertainment, before a disappointing crowd of about 80 persons. The club seats about 200 persons.

Mrs. Battistella, known professionally as Fanne Foxe and, most recently, as a close friend of U.S. Rep. Wilbur Mills, came on the dance floor waving red feathers like a Ziegfield girl and promptly threw them aside.

Someone in the audience shouted, "Great. Wilbur for President."

Mike Pinter, manager of the Casselberry club, said Mrs. Battistella first agreed to the two-week engagement for $3,500 a week. When she contracted with her new manager, Jerry Brandt, after Mills appeared with her on the stage of a Boston club, the price went up to $15,000 a week.

3 survivors in guarded condition

Two more San Jose sextuplets die

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Two more of the world's latest set of sextuplets died today of respiratory failures within two hours of each other. The three survivors clung to life.

A tiny girl who weighed less than two pounds died at 2:55 a.m. and a boy weighing about 2½ pounds died at 8:05 a.m., two days after their premature birth Sunday to Mrs. Charlotte Lange who lost quadruplets 13 months ago, hosrital officials reported. A third baby died within hours after birth.

The remaining three were reported in stable condition with "minor improvements in respiratory function," a spokesman at Valley Medical Center said.

The brother and sister began to worsen after midnight and failed to respond to treatment, the hospital said. The girl died of progressive respiratory and cardiac failures and the boy died of progressive respiratory failure.

New York hotel heist

Guests lose $250,000 in cash, jewels

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five well dressed men held 13 persons at gunpoint for two hours Monday and calmly emptied the Sherry Netherland Hotel safe-deposit boxes of $250,000 in cash, jewelry and checks.

The robbers, dressed in evening clothes, then released the hostages unharmed.

Police today said they had interviewed 25 to 50 of the hotel guests whose safe-deposit boxes had been rifled. They reported losses between $200,000 and $250,000. A police spokesman said the final amount could be twice that figure.

Officers said the three bandits walked into the Fifth Avenue hotel saying they wanted to register, but instead pulled revolvers and announced a stickup.

Two accomplices arrived, handcuffed 11 employees, and guarded them while the trio pried open 55 safe-deposit boxes and cash drawers with crowbars and screw drivers.

Two hotel guests who stumbled onto the two hour heist also were taken hostage.

The bandits, described as polite, then herded the 13 captives into an elevator, removed the handcuffs of one employe and told him to take the elevator to the 19th floor.

The bandits left the key to the handcuffs in the lobby.

In 1972, a similar robbery at the Hotel Pierre, two blocks from the Sherry Netherland, netted bandits an estimated $4 million.

WATERGATE

The trial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Judge John J. Sirica today admitted into evidence parts of a 1973 report written by John D. Ehrlichman putting much of the blame for Watergate and its cover-up on John N. Mitchell.

But Sirica ordered several portions of the report, termed a "charade" by government attorneys, deleted before it is given to the jury in the coverup trial of Ehrlichman, Mitchell and three other former Nixon associates.

The tapes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress wants the tape recordings and documents assembled during Richard Nixon's presidency to stay in Washington.

The House and Senate both passed a bill Monday to nullify the Sept. 7 General Service Administration agreement which gave Nixon the right to move the estimated 42 million White House tapes and documents to San Clemente, Calif. Nixon also got ownership of the material and the power to destroy them after five years or direct that they be destroyed upon his death.

Guilty plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tim Babcock, the former Republican governor of Montana, pleaded guilty today to aiding and abetting oil magnate Armand Hammer in making campaign contributions to Richard M. Nixon totaling $54,000.

The crime, a misdemeanor, carries a maximum penalty of one year in prison and a fine of $1,000. Sentencing was delayed by U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr.

L.A. computer fraud

Knew of missing checks last March

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Some city officials knew for eight months that 18 blank checks on the city treasury were gone. Nine of the checks —and nearly $1 million —are still missing in a suspected Mafia scheme.

City Comptroller Charles Navarro said Monday he has known since March 20 that the sequentially numbered checks were missing, but did not stop payment on them or notify police.

"We didn't know if they were misplaced, had fallen behind a desk or into a waste paper basket or what," Navarro said, telling a news conference that he figured at the time the checks would eventually be found.

Three of them —forged for a total of $2.5 million —were confiscated during the weekend by investigators, acting on a tip from a Senate organized crime probers. Two men were arrested, including one who the Senate subcommittee staff said had ties to New York Mafia chiefs.

People in today's news

Ruby Keeler

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (UPI) — Ruby Keeler, tap dancing star of Broadway in the 1920s and Hollywood musicals of the 1930s, is recovering rapidly from brain surgery, her daughter said Monday.

Miss Keeler, 64, former wife of singer Al Jolson, underwent surgery Nov. 23 and was listed in critical condition for some time. Her daughter Kathleen said she was "over any crisis" and "doing very well" but there was no indication she would be released from the hospital.

Debut postponed

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The scheduled Western Hemisphere debut of Russian ballet stars Valery and Galina Panov has been postponed until Jan. 7 while Valery recovers from a leg muscle injury.

A spokesman for the Spectrum, where the ballet with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra was scheduled for tonight, said Valery suffered the injury while practicing Sunday.

The spokesman said the injury was not serious and he would be "dancing within a week."

Wallenda walk

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — Karl Wallenda, famous circus aerialist, said Monday he is negotiating to walk a high wire in front of the Vatican.

Last month, Wallenda, in his late 60s, walked a wire suspended between two cranes 70 feet above the street near the Thames River outside London to publicize the world food shortage.

He said negotiations were under way in Rome to pay him for a similar stunt in front of the Vatican.

Consumerism

Farm prices

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — William J. Kuhfuss, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, says increased labor costs and the powerful labor monopoly are responsible for higher food costs to the consumer.

Kuhfuss said Tuesday night farm prices for meat and dairy products have declined, but inflation and rising marketing costs are sending retail food prices soaring.

"Inflation, plus built-in increases in labor costs all along the marketing, processing and distributing chain due to union contracts, makes it extremely difficult for management to make the necessary adjustments in order to pass on lower farm prices to consumers," Kuhfuss said.

Blue Shield

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A public hearing Monday by the state attorney general's office and the state insurance commissioner heard complaints that Blue Shield of California improperly processes subscriber claims.

Thomas C. Paton, president of Blue Shield, called the hearing "politically motivated" by the insurance commissioner.

At issue is whether Blue Shield is an indemnity insurance corporation to be regulated by the insurance commission, or whether it is a health plan thus not under the commission's control.

Currently, Blue Shield is considered a health plan.

Candle hazard

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader researchers say for the second Christmas in a row that if lead wicks are in holiday candles, they carry a lead poisoning hazard.

The group tried to get the Consumer Product Safety Commission to ban such candles last Christmas, but the agency said it could find no imminent hazard.

Negotiations with the candle industry during the year, however, resulted in a voluntary agreement to cease manufacture of the lead core wicks last October.

Deadline on property tax tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Property owners have until midnite tonight to pay first installments on their County property taxes to avoid a six per cent penalty fee.

Last year, more than 70,000 taxpayers were late with first installments and paid the penalty.

Bradley J. Nuremberg, acting tax collector, said first installments cover approximately half of the $2,407 billion total levy for the fiscal year 1974-75.

Six seeking senate seat

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Voters in the 21st senatorial district cast ballots today in a special primary election to fill the vacant seat of former Republican state Sen. John Harmer.

The district has been unrepresented since Oct. 4 when Harmer was sworn in as lieutenant governor following the resignation of Ed Reinecke.

Six candidates are in the race for the senatorial seat, but the two frontrunners were considered to be Republicans— Assemblyman Newton Russell and Los Angeles City Councilman Arthur Snyder.

Yorty's sister attack victim

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The sister of former mayor Sam Yorty was reportedly roughed up and slugged several times Monday by three youths who fled with her purse.

Mrs. Enid Barley, 59, of Hollywood said she was loading packages into her car in a store parking lot when the three juveniles approached and hit her several times fleeing with her purse. Police said she was not seriously injured.

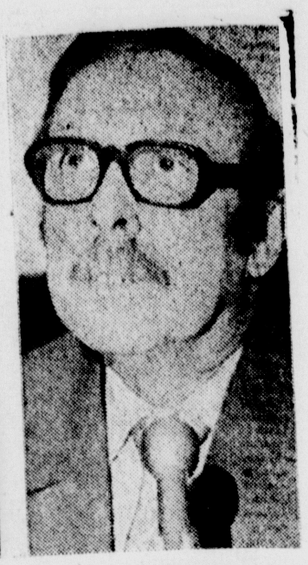
All three youths were arrested a short time later and booked on suspicion of strong arm robbery. Identities of the suspects were not released because of their ages.

Politics . . .

HOUSE HUNTING — Gov.-elect Edmund Brown Jr., still is looking for a bachelor apartment or house in Sacramento. Like Gov. Ronald Reagan before him, he refuses to live in the ancient Governor's Mansion.

ALMOST RUNNING — Former Democratic Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma said he hasn't decided yet if he'll run for president. He said his hats not in the ring, but his hat band is.

NO SURPRISE — To no one's amazement, Chicago Mayor Richard Daley announced Monday he would seek an unprecedented 6th 4-year term as Windy City Mayor and control of the powerful political organization he built up the past 20 years.



SEEKS OUSTERS—Rep. Lester Wolff (D-N.Y.) wants President Ford to fire Army Chief of Staff Gen. George Brown and Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz for "callous, unthinking remarks." Ford did not reply.

Wallace wants U.S. presidential primary

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George Wallace called today for creation of a national Democratic primary "to let the people decide" the 1976 presidential nominee.

Wallace said a national primary or a series of regional primaries would insure that the most popular candidate won the nomination.

The governor, who got a warm reception at the Democratic mini-convention last weekend, said he is content with the charter the party adopted, but he would not rule out a new third party movement.

Wallace said a national primary or a string of regional primaries would insure that party reformers on the left or party bosses on the right do not dominate the 1976 convention.

Michael Griffin, Wallace's representative on the Democratic National Committee, said he thought Wallace would be unhappy about a compromise charter provision making it easier to challenge delegations.

But Wallace said he hoped the compromise, worked out to keep blacks and women from walking out of the miniconvention, and the rest of the charter would be implemented in good faith.

"I don't think you'll find anyone who is completely happy with it," said Wallace, "but there is nothing in the charter that disturbs me."

What's Going On At Griswold's

So many people have remarked that they miss our column to keep up with the news that it's time to tickle the typewriter.

Pat Latipow has taken over the job of Smorgasbord manager. She has been at Griswold's for 8 years—but always behind the scenes as a bookkeeper. Now she's in the front firing line—and feels that it's like operating a three ring circus—bakery, gift shop and smorgasbord.

Have you noticed her new improvements? The kids in the dining room have researched Swedish costumes . . . you'll find the boys in bright pants, gay suspenders, occasionally a hat and groovy knee socks.

We're now asking that you pay when you come in — Pat found that as many as 30 or 40 persons were "walking out" in a day. If this is a bit of inconvenience, please bear with us—we don't want to raise any prices in this inflation!

Alice Crosno, kitchen manager, has been with us for 11 years. This past few weeks she's been working on improving the salads. Try her new potato, improved macaroni, coleslaw and interesting new marinated carrot salad.

Have you seen our new decorated cakes by Reta Tinkle?

Don't miss our Lucia Breakfast, December 15th. Annually the Smorgasbords participate in the Lucia Festival by serving an unusual Swedish breakfast from 7-11 a.m. In addition to the regular fare, Griswold's serves many special Swedish foods for this unusual breakfast.

Dual ownership violation

Ag Dept. accuses 3 California firms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department Monday announced a formal complaint charging operators of a California agribusiness complex with violating a federal rule against dual ownerships of meat packing plants, feedlots and cattle marketing agencies.

The complaint was the first filed since adoption of the regulation earlier this year. Officials said some of the parties in the case were also chargel with giving or receiving illegal kickback payments in connection with cattle sales commissions.

The charges, spokesmen said, were aimed at:

—Walti, Schilling & Co., a meat packing firm in Santa Cruz, Calif., and its president, Lawrence J. Wolfsen.

—Wolfsen's Feed Lots, Inc., a custom feedlot at Los Banos, Calif., and its board chairman, Henry B. Wolfsen.

—Sunset Cattle Co., a market agency and dealer of Los Banos, Calif., and its president, Warren L. Wolfsen.

—And Henry A. Wolfsen, a stockholder or officer in all three firms who also is president of Wolfsen Livestock Management Co. and Agricultural Concepts, Inc. He is also vice president of Romero Ranch Co.

The Agriculture Department said that although its regulations do not allow joint control of packing plants, custom feedlots and market agencies, the four Wolfsens jointly set the policies of the three firms named in the complaint.

Charges of either giving or accepting illegal commissions, officials added, involved Wolfsen's Feed Lots and the Sunset Cattle Co.

Officials said the complaint does not prove the Wolfsens or their companies violated the law, and they have a right to a hearing on the matter. If the charges are upheld, the parties would be subject to a "cease and desist" order.

'Lobbying for industries'

Consumer group hits state license boards

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Consumer activists told legislators Monday that the state's Department of Consumer Affairs needs a major overhaul if it is going to protect the buying public.

Kay Pachtner, executive director of San Francisco Consumer Action, told an Assembly Ways and Means select committee that California "would be better off" if most of the department's 34 licensing board and bureaus were eliminated.

"The state's licensing system is a sham," she said. "These boards are nothing more than government-sanctioned lobbying groups for the industries they are supposed to regulate."

The department has recently been criticized by the San Francisco consumer group for being an agency with a "deceptive package."

Patricia Gayman, a longtime aide to Gov. Ronald Reagan who was recently appointed director of DCA, countered the critical attack by saying consumer activists expect too much.

Ms. Pachtner called for a massive restructuring of the licensing agencies, which would include a majority of "public members" on each board. She suggested that the licensing boards be financed with state funds rather than fees collected from licenses

Large chains setting food prices--Alioto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's three largest supermarket chains are responsible for high meat prices and ought to be broken into smaller competitive units by Congress, San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto said Monday.

Testifying before a House-Sente economic subcommittee investigating supermarket pricing practices, Alioto said the A&P, Safeway and Kroeger chains have enough buying power to keep down the prices they pay for meat and keep high the prices consumers are charged for it.

Alioto said A&P buys $20 million worth of beef from packing houses every Monday, in effect determining the price other chains will pay later in the week.

He proposed that Congress, by statute, break up the chains into geographical units so none is large enough to set nationwide price patterns.

Alioto also proposed repeal of a 1920 law which prohibits meat packers such as Armour or Swift from expanding into the retail field.

He said the law, intended to prevent big packers from squeezing out small groceries, was outdated now. Packers would be a healthy competitive force that would help bring down supermarket prices, he said.

Restaurants said feeding, wasting too much food

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A relief official said Monday that restaurant food portions are wastefully large and Americans could be feeding millions of the world's starving with what they leave on their plates.

"Food portions served in most restaurants far exceed the quantity we need," said Dr. W. Stanley Mooneyham of World Vision International. "The amount of uneaten food we send back to restaurant kitchens could feed millions of hungry people."

Mooneyham, in a statement, suggested that restaurant operators give their patrons the choice between a regular portion and a so-called children's portion.

"The smaller portion many restaurants make available for children would be adequate for many adults," Mooneyham said.

He said the food saved would increase surpluses available for overseas aid as well as help stem inflation.

World Vision is attempting to raise $20 million for famine relief and food-related development programs through a project called FAST —Fight Against Starvation Today. Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., is national chairman of the project.

At the Agriculture Department, U.S. food officials were told that studies show the world can produce enough food to meet total global needs over the next decade but in the long run periodic famine will not be averted until poorer nations dramatically raise food production.

The assessment came from Harry J. Walters, a former Agriculture Department official who now is an official of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Walters directed a department study which concluded it would be technically impossible for the countries with high food production to transfer enough grain to meet the needs of all the hungry nations.

Walters said analysis showed that although overall global production may keep half a step ahead of population growth for the next decade, distribution But it will be six months or so until world leaders know whether the conference must be written off as a failure because nations prove unable or unwilling to translate resolutions into effective action, he said.

Bridge

He maintains win streak

Pessimistic Pete looked over dummy. Then he played its ace of clubs on West's king. Next came a trump to the ace and when both opponents followed Pete relaxed. He saw that no matter how badly the rest of the cards lay nothing could keep him from scoring 10 tricks, game and rubber.

He played two more trumps to pull East's teeth and proceeded to lead a low diamond toward dummy's nine. West ducked so the nine held. Pete played a diamond back and West took his queen.

He shifted to the seven of spades. Pete played low from dummy and East was in with the queen. He made his best play which was to return a club, but Pete ruffed and knocked out West's ace of diamonds.

West led a second spade. Pete rose with dummy's ace, ruffed a club to get back to his hand; discarded dummy's jack of spades on the long diamond and made the hand in spite of everything being wrong.

Of course, an opening spade lead would have beaten him, but West was a bridge player; not a man with second sight.

World of animals

Pick animals' Yule presents carefully

By DR. FRANK MILLER

Presented here are a few ideas on pet presents. For canines, if it's collars and the like, be sure they are sturdily made and a size appropriate to the animal. Toys should be too big to be swallowed, and too tough to be chewed into swallowable-sized pieces. For toys that are supposed to be chewable and swallowable, be sure they are actually digestible. Some of these chewable products can cause problems ranging from indigestion to intestinal obstruction.

Concerning cats, harnesses should be properly fitted, collars should be the snap-away or stretchable type to allow the cat to escape should the collar become entangled. Cat toys frequently have eyes or tails easily bitten or torn off. These obviously can be swallowed, causing dangerous complications. Beware, also, of any ribbons or thread which can be unraveled and swallowed, something which cats and kittens frequently do. A long strand of ribbon, or similar material, in the intestine is more likely to cause perforation than are small sharp objects. Most canines and felines, particularly the young, need to be kept away from packaging materials which give off food odors or flavors. Puppies are particularly prone to gulp down such "goodies."

About birds, carriers should not have V-type handles which can trap foot or neck, resulting in fractures or strangulation. Toys should be of a size appropriate to the bird's cage or aviary. Regardless of how darling the present may be, if it leaves the bird with no room to fly in, it's a poor gift. In fact, too many presents are a common problem in many bird cages, since they compete for space to the extent they eliminate all possibility for the bird to get needed exercise.

As for rodents and other small furries, many appreciate exercise wheels and kennels and-or new horizons. Be sure whatever you give is easy to clean and contains no sharp edges.

For fish and cold-blooded species generally, try to keep the gift utilitarian. Don't overdo it. Some of the decorated pieces for aquarium or terrarium are so large they tend to crowd out or obscure the original inhabitants.

DEAR DR. MILLER: Part of the reason I have high blood pressure is I'm worried that my dog, Jake, might have high blood pressure too, because he usually worries when I do. What to do about this? — D.D.

Dear D.D.: Stop worrying. Fortunately for both of you, dogs aren't prone to high blood pressure problems.

Riverside County freezes all hiring

Car pool opposed by bus operator

FOUNTAIN VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Garlene Zappitelli complains that her problem is that she tried to heed President Ford's encouragement to form car pools but did not buy a station wagon.

The combination got her hailed before the state Public Utilities Commission, accused of operating an unauthorized bus line.

Her case, coming up for a hearing Wednesday, is seen by car pool proponents as precedent-setting and has inspired a move in the state Assembly to prevent car pools from being discouraged by legal requirements.

Part of the problem is that the commission is still wrestling with the legal difference between a bus line and a car pool. Under the current guidelines, a spokesman said, a car pool must charge its members no more than their share of the gasoline used and is limited to use of personal autos "up to and including a station wagon."

Mrs. Zappitelli has a 12-passenger van—as do many motorists in Southern California—because she has six children.

In May, she began giving rides to eight to 10 fellow employes of TRW Inc., where she is a budget data clerk. Riders pay $8 a week for the 77-mile round trip to the firm's Redondo Beach office.

The Southern California Commuter Bus Service Inc. filed a complaint with the PUC, charging her with operation of an unauthorized commercial carrier in competition with the bus service.

If Mrs. Zappitelli is not checked, "fly-by-night bus routes and a general disservice to the public" will result, complained Ronald Hoffman, president of the bus line.

He asked for an order halting Mrs. Zappitelli's service, payment of $483 in lost business to his bus line and a fine "of not less than $500 per offense."

"I don't feel I'm guilty of anything except sharing a ride, which the President and everyone else has asked us to do," said Mrs. Zappitelli. "The government and all the big companies are encouraging car pooling, but I do it and I get in trouble."

She had to drop out of night school, miss work days and "renew my prescription for tranquilizers" because of the red tape of fighting the PUC action, she said.

The Center for Law in the Public Interest is defending Mrs. Zappitelli, saying "there may be problems starting up other car pools in Southern California if the PUC interprets its guidelines in a restrictive way" and the center may fight the case to the state supreme court.

Commuter Computer, a nonprofit group operating with federal grants to match up car poolers, said a judgment against Mrs. Zappitelli would be a bad precedent. State Assemblyman Charles Warren, chairman of the Committee on Energy and Diminishing Resources, is introducing a bill to relax the commission's guidelines on recovering costs for carpoolers "and allow people to use conveyances larger than a station wagon," a committee aide said.

Mrs. Zappitelli said it should be clear she's not running a business—if she were, she would have bought a larger van.

Santa grabs purse thief

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Santa Claus, armed only with jingle bells, caught a purse snatcher here Tuesday.

Santa, alias Arthur White, 35, Cincinnati, was appearing for his 11th season at a suburban shopping center when he saw a teenager run up to a woman and grab her purse.

"Stop or I'll shoot," yelled White, who works as a security guard.

"We must have run for nearly a mile through the shopping center," he said. "I lost my hat, glasses and beard after about 30 yards."

White caught the youth, but he escaped over a high fence.

With the help, though, of Paul Cain, 17, Cincinnati, White finally managed to grab the suspect again and hold him until police arrived.

Water, noise issues raised in city environment report

By ED PRATHER
P-B Staff Writer

The Pomona City Council Monday adopted the environmental resources element of the city's general plan.

The lengthy report meets a variety of state-mandated additions to the general plan including conservation, open space, seismic safety, scenic highways, noise, and some safety areas.

The element details the environmental resources of the city and proposes broad policy guidelines for the preservation of those resources. It also deals with potential natural hazards such as floods, earthquakes and fires.

One of the most significant natural resources dealt with in the report is water and its availability. The report notes that the city will become increasingly reliant on water from the Metropolitan Water District in Los Angeles as well production in the Chino Basin is reduced to safe limits.

In another area, the element calls for the development of a comprehensive noise control ordinance. The ordinance would mandate certain development standards for business and residential structures to shield the occupants from excessive noise.

The element, which the state requires to be adopted by Dec. 31, was approved on a 4-1 vote of the council, with Councilman Adrian Wright asking that council action be delayed.

Wright stated that the element does not comprehensively deal with the preservation of hillsides in Pomona. He asked that element be revised to include prohibitions against major cuts in hillside developments in the city.

He cited the developments in the Westmont area as the type of hillside destruction he wants to prevent in the future.

"Those deep cuts are hideous scars," said Wright, "that rob the community of its identity."

City Planner Sanford A. Sorensen stated that the element as presented to the council satisfies the board concerns of the community, and that the solution to specific problems, such as those cited by Wright, would be handled through city ordinances.

Sorensen added that the policy guidelines provided in the element would have prevented the type of hillside destruction cited by Wright, if the element had been in effect at the time of the development.

In other business, the council approved speed limit changes for more than 50 areas in the city. The emergency ordinance becomes effective immediately with the posting of new speed limits expected within a few days.

The speed limit changes are based on a survey of actual average driving speeds on the various streets. In many cases, the average traffic speeds were found to be higher than the posted speed limit and thus necessitate the revision of the speed limit upwards, officials said.

In conjunction with the revision of the speed limits, the Pomona Police Department plans to begin enforcement of speed limits through the use of radar.

The council, following a public hearing during which no appeals were made, revoked 44 massage technician permits. The permits were revoked because the holders had failed to file a required medical statement that the massage technicians are free from communicable diseases.

A representative of Open Choices in Pomona informed the council that the organization intends to hire about 60 local students this month in a clean-up campaign. Mayor Ray Lepire promised that the city would cooperate in picking up refuse collected during the campaign.

The council authorized a $4,500 expenditure for Christmas decorations in conjunction with the Pomona Chamber of Commerce.

ROBERT J. ROFELTY

Search continues for husband in family slayings

Sheriff's homicide investigators today are still looking for double-murder suspect Robert J. Rofelty, accused in the slayings of his daughter and his estranged wife.

The victims, Bonnie Jeanne, 13, and Jeanne Rofelty, 38, were shot Dec. 1 in their home at 5838 Prospero Drive, Glendora. A family friend, Craig D. Carroll, 36, was wounded and is recovering.

Authorities said that Rofelty apparently is still in the valley. Reports were that sheriff's officers were in the Pomona area during the weekend, looking for him.

The suspect is described as a Caucasian, 5 feet 8, weighing 170 pounds with brown hair and brown eyes and a bushy mustache and long sideburns.

Anyone with information about Rofelty's whereabouts should call the sheriff's department. Their names will be kept confidential, deputies said.

Bonita singers to entertain Rotary

The Chamber Singers of Bonita High School will entertain members of the La Verne Rotary Club and their guests Thursday noon at the Castaway Restaurant, Pomona. They will sing Christmas songs.

United Crusade drive reaches 75% of goal

A total of $2,669,240 — 75 per cent of the goal — has been raised so far for the United Crusade in the Pomona and San Gabriel valleys, regional campaign Chairman Charles F. Horne Jr. has reported.

The goal for the area is $3,550,746.

The region is made up of 28 incorporated cities and serves a total of 1.25 million people. It is estimated that one out of three receive direct benefits from the services supported by United Crusade.

George Jagels and Mrs. Joseph Messler of the individual pacesetter divisions reported that they have passed the half-way mark with 58 per cent of goal with a present total of $348,810. George Leisz of the major corporate pacesetter division said 86 per cent of the goal had been reached with present funds of $620,156.

Joseph Jacobs, who heads up the major employes division, reported that 76 per cent of goal had been reached with a total of $815,329. Earl Denton, chairman of the public schools division, made it known that 90 per cent of goal had been realized with collections of $160,519. C. J. Pings of the colleges division reported the drive is 69 per cent complete with $31,830 raised. Robert Burwell of the hospital division said this phase of the drive was 81 per cent complete with a total of $35,796.

The agencies division under Hans Cohn has raised $41,130 which represents a total of more than one per cent of payroll.

H. S. Anderson, chairman of the West Zone, reported that 55 per cent of the goal had been reached with a total of $159,460. The West Central zone chaired by James B. Thomas revealed that $58,393 representing 66 per cent of goal had been raised.

Frank Carr, East Zone chairman, said his campaign is 67 per cent complete with a present amount of $122,247. Mrs. Field Thompson, East Central zone chairman, told the gathering her campaign was 87 per cent complete with a total of $90,416.

2 pals of man slain crashing party charged with burglary

Formal complaints charging burglary have been filed against two men who allegedly accompanied a 19-year-old Pomona man shot to death after breaking in on a party last Tuesday night in Ontario.

The pair, Billy Joe Gault, 18, of 829 N. Mountain Ave., Upland, and Kenneth Robert Grant, 24, of 1021 Placer Ave., Ontario, were arrested on suspicion of murder following an investigation into the shooting death of Rodney V. Carrow, 19, of 1778 Wright St., Pomona.

Carrow, Grant Gault, and another man broke into an apartment at 1104 E. Elma St., where a party was in progress, police said. The four men were armed with carpenters' axes and a shotgun. A fight ensued in which Carrow was shot to death by a 17-year-old youth.

The 17-year-old was not held on murder charges, officers said, because the shooting was probably done in self-defense. The youth, however, was lodged in juvenile hall on suspicion of receiving stolen property and violation of probation when officers learned the gun used in the fatal shooting was stolen.

Gault and Grant were arrested on murder charges under a California law that holds anyone aiding a person killed in the commission of a felony responsible for his death. However the Deputy District Attorney's Office did not file formal murder charges against the suspects, but did file burglary charges in connection with breaking into the party.

Ontario police said they are seeking the fourth man involved in the alleged break-in and shooting for questioning.

Gault and Grant were scheduled for arraignment in West Valley Municipal Court Wednesday.

It's full steam ahead for youth on novelty bike

A bicycle ride for David Barrett, 16, of Pomona, is no ordinary adventure.

He doesn't need to pedal, which is a good thing since his bicycle weighs about 200 pounds. But he does need a driver's license, and enough money to buy fuel.

What Barrett rides is actually a steam-powered motorcycle built on a bicycle frame.

Barrett and his father, Peter, of 297 E. Aliso St., built the motorcycle using an engine that had been in their garage for seven years.

"It's just for fun," said Barrett, who is interested in mechanics. "I really enjoy it."

It's not the first time the Barrett family has constructed a steam-powered vehicle. Five years ago an older brother, Phillip, built a steam-powered car.

Barrett spent about 18 months working on the bicycle and has invested about $250 in the project. The bicycle's boiler is operated by propane. The bike can travel at a top speed of about 25 miles per hour.

The bike is no answer to the energy crisis, however, admits the youth. It gets only six to 10 miles per gallon of propane.

Interest rate cut for home buyers under emergency law

P-B Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Almost $284 million available to prospective California home buyers will now be offered at an even lower interest rate than it was originally offered at as an emergency measure.

Early this week Housing Secretary James T. Lynn reduced interest rates on funds available under the Emergency Home Purchase Assistance Act signed by President Ford in October.

The rate-cut has reduced actual interest payments by over 1 per cent from an annual rate of 9.92 per cent (including insurance fees, etc.) to 8.895, according to Department of Housing and Urban development (HUD) spokesmen.

In California nearly $284 million of the original $442 million allocated to the state for low-interest loans is still uncommitted.

HUD spokesman said Californians have used approximately $117 million through mortgage bankers and another $41 million through savings and loan institutions.

There is still $2.2 billion in the national program which originated at $3 billion, but HUD expects the total amount to be used before the program's authorization is up.

The maximum loan allowable under the program is $42,000 except in Alaska and Hawaii where $55,000 can be borrowed. The mortgages must be made for at least 25 years and for no longer than 30, according to HUD.

A HUD spokesman said prospective home buyers would have to shop around for loan institutions that have the federal funds to find the low-interest rates.

The program, according to the spokesman, was intended to help the ailing housing market.

Council divided on setting standard for storage areas

By BARBARA RAUCH
P-B Staff Writer

A proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance to establish consistent standards for outdoor storage was defeated on a 2-2 tie vote by the San Dimas City Council Monday evening.

The tie vote came about because Mayor Jim Lough was out of town. The council later in the evening voted 3-1 (with Keith Brogan, vice mayor, voting no) to reconsider the matter at the Jan. 13 meeting of the council.

The amendment would make open storage areas subject to development standards rather than conditional use. In development standards the city spells out specifically what standards are expected for outdoor storage.

Under the present ordinance, standards are set for each individual business in conditional use permit hearings. The amendment would shift review of outdoor storage areas from the Planning Commission to the Development Plan Review Board, making the procedure seven weeks shorter.

City Manager Robert L. Poff told the council that the intent of the amendment was to ease the procedures for new business coming into the city.

But the dissenting council members, Brogan and James McLean, felt that the amendment imposed hardships on existing businesses which could be asked to conform to the set standards after a year or more.

Stanley Plummer, former mayor of San Dimas, stated his concern that the amendment would impose financial hardship on existing businesses. Noting that the existing ordinance needs revision, he felt that the proposal needed clarification. The requirement of complete screening from public view of all outdoor storage, he said, would be entirely impractical.

Mike Goldberg, director of planning, explained to the council that adjacent cities had at least equally restrictive ordinances concerning outdoor storage. He explained that the amendment did not intend to completely screen all storage from public view, but to soften the view from streets.

McLean objected not only to the amendment but to the makeup of the Development Plan Review Board, of which he is a member. He asked the council to add business membership, specifically the manager of the Chamber of Commerce and one local businessman.

The board as presently constituted has a majority of city administrators with one member of the council and one member of the Planning Commission.

Dale Harris, voice of fruit frost service, retiring

The weatherman is retiring.

Dale R. Harris, head meteorologist for the National Weather Service office and head of the Fruit Frost Bureau in Pomona for many years, reports that after Dec. 31 he will "wallow around in bed 'till after 6 or 6:15 each morning."

Currently Harris is head meteorologist at the National Weather Service station at UC Riverside. The office was moved to Riverside two years ago from Pomona.

Harris will be honored at a retirement dinner Jan. 10 at 6:30 p.m. at the Smuggler's Inn in San Bernardino. Reservations may be made by calling Ron Hamilton at the Riverside weather station at 787-4221.

Harris is ending a long and distinguished career in meteorology.

He was working for the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in 1940-42 when he got a job as a student navigator with Trans World Airlines, but before he could compete the training he received his draft notice and enlisted in the Navy.

He was discharged from the Navy in 1945 and went to work for the weather bureau in Phoenix, Ariz. He transferred to Flagstaff, attended college while working fulltime, and received a BS degree in 1949. From there he went to Fresno then Prescott, Ariz., and then to Pomona where he became the voice of the fruit frost service, warning those in agriculture of pending cold weather very early in the morning. These warnings were broadcast over radio throughout the western states.

He worked three years in the Pomona office, and did fire weather duty in Los Angeles before being assigned to the Coachella-Palo Verde Valley Frost District in 1954. He was there 12 years and worked summer fire weather duty in Salem and Medford, Ore., and in Sacramento.

On April 1, 1966 he retured to Pomona as head meterologist. Two years ago, Harris underwent heart surgery. Harris and his wife have two sons, Martin of Rigby, Idaho, and Jim of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; a daughter, Melinda at home, and a grandson, Kevin. The family home is in Riverside.

After Harris gets caught up on his sleep, he plans to spend time playing golf, taking pictures and playing the organ. He also will attend meetings of the Rotary Club. He has been a member since 1966.

Candidates night canceled

The administration of Mt. San Antonio College has canceled plans to hold a candidates night Dec. 18 at the college.

College President Eldon E. Pearce said he learned that the League of Women Voters will hold a public forum of its own at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 17 in West Covina.

"A second public forum, as planned earlier, would be repetitious under the circumstances," Pearce explained.

All 13 candidates running for election Jan. 7 for the post left vacant by the death of Trustee Lance D. Smith have been invited to the forum. The office runs through March 31.

The meeting will be held at the Hollenbeck Intermediate School, 2101 E. Merced Ave. It is being sponsored jointly by the league as well as by the American Association of University Women, The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Mt. San Antonio College Faculty Association.

Opinion

The crisis is no one believes it

Is there an energy crisis or isn't there? Or was there ever one?

A survey last summer by the Federal Energy Administration found that 90 per cent of the people queried in the energy crisis was either over, nonexistent or manufactured by the oil companies.

Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, is among those who believe that drastic measures are needed to make Americans realize that there is, indeed, an energy crisis. Charging that President Ford's reliance on voluntary conservation is bound to prove inadequate, he calls for "a sizeable tax on gasoline, or on imported oil or on automobiles according to their weight or horsepower" to discourage U.S. consumption of oil.

The energy crisis has "never been more serious," says William W. Boeschenstein, president of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. He recently called upon the nation's architects, engineers and professionals in related fields to "alert the American people to the reality of the situation and mobilize them to take immediate defensive measures."

Boeschenstein spoke at the third Owens-Corning Energy Conservation Awards dinner, the finale of an annual competition that recognizes architects, engineers and owners of buildings who have made advances in conserving energy.

On the one hand, there are grounds for confidence, he said. The nation's total use of energy is projected to decline this year for the first time since 1958.

But the negative side of the picture may well be stronger: Demand for imported oil began to swing upward again in September and consumption of motor gasoline is running 25 to 30 per cent ahead of last winter.

The technology needed to do the job is already in existence, said Boeschenstein. What is lacking is a sense of urgency, and the only ones who can create it are those who understand the problem — "who have a practical, working knowledge of how bad things really are."

Significantly, however, for the first time in the history of the awards, the judges found no winners in the industrial and commercial building design categories, which account for 70 per cent of the energy consumed in the United States.

If those who know "how bad things really are" are not yet possessed by a sense of urgency, little wonder that the rest of the population is going about the business of energy consumption pretty much as usual.

Who owns what?

The Rockefellers don't control everything. In fact, it takes over 2,300 pages in two volumes to list Who Owns Whom in America, which happens to be the subtitle of the recently published Directory of Intercorporate Ownership.

Included in the directory are the names of more than 8,000 parent companies in America which own or control more than 90,000 domestic and overseas subsidiaries. Also listed are more than 2,000 foreign firms controlling more than 4,000 firms currently established in the United States.

The directory, published by World Trade Academy Press in New York and compiled during years of exhaustive research, sells for $75 and is expected to find an interested readership among such people as corporate executives, bankers, economists, financiers, marketing specialists, investors, technical management consultants, advertising executives, research workers, libraries and educators and possibly even a Rockefeller or two.

The beginning

One of the problems science has in dealing with the universe is deciding how it started.

Biblical explanations are not precise enough for science. So men of extremely high intelligence and skills in the world of research have been moving back the frontiers of our knowledge until they seem to have reached the ultimate, the Beginning. Except that it never quite holdsup.

The Big Bang theory of the beginning of our universe rests on a titanic explosion of a ball of gas. But it does not explain the origin of that gas. So back to the research.

Now a Cornell University astronomer has announced the existence of a pulsating star near the edge of our galaxy, the Milky Way, which he believes could be as much as 45 billion years old. Our universe is said to be only 12 billion years of age. So, he reasons, the new pulsar could well be a fragment of the previous universe, whose collapse gave birth to ours.

So the search will continue for the Beginning.

This is not said to denigrate science. The more we study our universe, the more we learn about it and its origins, the more profound must become our awe of and respect for the Creative Power. It may be that on the Last Day the human race will finally learn the truth about the First Day.

For us who come and go along the long, long way, however, it is simpler to accept the ancient words, "In the beginning, God created . . ."

Nuclear plants are vulnerable

Though I am not always in agreement with Progress-Bulletin editorials, I usually find them challenging and well thought out. So it was with considerable surprise that I read your editorial of Dec. 3, blandly pooh poohing the dangers of nuclear power.

Citizens should not be mislead. Nuclear waste is the most volitile and dangerous industrial pollutant we've got. The safety record of our nuclear power plants in containing it is far from reassuring. (Leaks and plant equipment breakdowns have already occurred, and this material will be lethal for thousands of years.)

The threat of sabatoge, or destruction during wartime should not be laughed off either. These plants are vulnerable to such dangers, and the consequences would be nightmarish.

We know that a massive dose of radiation is deadly. But the danger of continual small increase of radiation in the environment, already associated with the disposal of nuclear wastes is guess work. Its effect on the genetic health of our future generations is something that frightens me personally.

We will probably have to face the unpleasant task of radically reducing our energy consumption and our standard of living. Nuclear power is not the answer to our unfortunate dependence on fossil fuels. — Craig Enberg, La Verne.

Noise pollution

I am a law abiding citizen and I appreciate police protection as much as the next person. I can even appreciate the fact that it is widely felt that police helicopters can be valuable instruments in the enforcement of the law. But I would like to voice my complaint with one aspect of their use — namely, noise pollution.

During the day it is neither as noticeable nor as disturbing that these vehicles produce noise well in excess of that allowed motor vehicles. But at night, particularly in the late hours as the city is responsibly and thoroughly patrolled, the noise gets old pretty fast.

If there is no feasible way to control the noise, fine, but if there is, I wish something would be done about it. After all, the police are the ones enforcing the laws that make us keep our noise down. — Byron K. Hatcher, Pomona.

Watergate--Japanese style

TOKYO — In the backrooms of Tokyo, people are talking about how the Watergate scandal brought down Kakeui Tanaka. The story is worth telling.

The tenacious Tanaka, son of an indigent horse trader, became Japan's most successful political horse trader. He whelled and dealed his way into the nation's top political office 28 months ago, according to sources who should know, with cash under the table.

The money was collected from industrial contributors in need of government favors. The Japanese have a saying for it: "Kinken Seiji" or "Money talks politically."

The details remain murky. As one knowledgeable source put it: "There are great dark pools of scandal upon which a light will never be shone."

As Tanaka was making his deals to become prime minister, Richard Nixon was siphoning cash from American corporate contributors to finance his triumphant re-election.

Then the Watergate revelations, published by an adversary press, began to rock Washington. The stories were given wide coverage in the Japanese press. Gular television reports were beamed across the seas by satellite. My own reports of the Watergate developments, Japanese journalists tell me, made headlines in Japan.

As the scandal unfolded, according to an American source, his Japanese friends would confide to him: "Watergate demonstrates the vitality of American democracy. How we wish it could happen here." They referred to their own shady political system and the man who symbolized the worst of it. Kakuei Tanaka. There was buzzing in the backrooms about his rise to riches. On the modest salary of a public servant, it was whispered, he had somehow managed to acquire homes and villas worth millions.

He had become a millionaire, according to the rumors, by buying up land that the government later purchased. He had also "blackmailed" corporations for political funds and he openly kept "mistresses," it was said.

But no one said it out loud. Japanese journalists were too polite, too cozy with their news sources, too indebted to the government for favors to dig into the story. They preferred to write about scandals in Washington, 7,783 miles away, than about scandals on their own news beats.

But the editors of the respected Tokyo monthly, Bungei Shunju, impressed by the investigative reporting that forced Richard Nixon to resign finally assigned a large investigative staff to check into Tanaka's financial affairs. The Japanese muckrakers, headed by crack reported Takashi Tachibana, compiled massive documentation of Tanaka's tangled finances. The result was a devasting 61-page expose entitled, "An Anatomy of Kakuei Tanaka, His Money and His Men," in the November issue of the magazine.

This presented the first cohesive and authoritative account of Tanaka's dark side. Yet for almost two weeks, the Tokyo dailies pretended they hadn't seen the story. Not a line was picked up.

The embarrassing silence was broken when Tanaka appeared as a guest speaker before a foreign correspondents club. The outlanders, caring less about the tacit taboos of their host country, grilled the prime minister for nearly an hour about the charges raised in the magazine.

The ruffled Tanaka, who had expected to be queried politely about his policies, went away muttering about the unstatesmanlike conduct of the foreign correspondents. But the repercussions from the press conference finally broke into the Japanese papers.

The end, as with Richard Nixon, came slowly and painfully. Indeed, the two men went through similar writhings as they struggled in the sludge.

Tanaka's popularity, as Nixon's, plummeted in the polls. Like Nixon, Tanaka reshuffled his cabinet and held a press conference. Tanaka even echoed Nixon's statement, seeking to make everything "perfectly clear." that "I am not a crook." Avowed Tanaka: "Let me make one point very clear: I've done nothing illegal."

But the press and the public wouldn't be put off. Four months after Nixon resigned, Tanaka followed with his resignation. The Watergate revelations had ricocheted and felled an unexpected victim.

Butz's blooper a lesson for jokesters

WASHINGTON — Before we hang, draw, quarter, tar, feather and politically excommunicate Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz for telling that atrocious dialect joke, let me make two suggestions:

First, I propose that every public official heard to cluck indignantly over Butz's blooper take a solemn oath that he-she has never, never been guilty of privately an "off the record" telling a joke or making a remark that might be considered derogatory of any ethnic or racial group:

Second, that every Washington political reporter who filed copy on Butz's blooper take an oath that whenever he-she has heard a Cabinet member, Senator, Congressman or otherwise newsworthy public official tell such a joke, or make such a remark, the incident was dutifully reported to the public.

Of course, there are those who might insist that the recent Butz story-telling incident falls into a different category since the Secretary of Agriculture's aspersion demeaned the spiritual leader of millions of Catholics throughout the world.

But though it may come as a shock to such innocents, the truth is that bad dialect jokes about the Pope, as well as other spiritual and secular leaders, have been passed along by bad joke-telling politicians in this town for too long a time to remember.

Longer, for example, than those bad dialect jokes about Golda Meir, or Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip. Or even those interminable atrocities involving the rabbi, the priest and the preacher on a raft, all 300 variations thereof.

Thus, the Vatican spokesman who shrugged off the Butz joke as a matter of poor taste, a matter best left to die for want of attention, had in my opinion the right perspective on the incident. For better, in fact, that that of our own overractive White House.

It comes as no surprise that a President running for reelection should want his Secretary of Agriculture to make amends for any offense he may have given a sizeable block of voters. But the Ford White House's grandstanding on the issue left the impression that Earl Butz(rather than merely indulging in tasteless wit, had instead told a college audience that Papists controlled the country's banks and newspapers.

Bad as the Butz blooper was, did it really deserve all the attention given it? Not if Butz is judged by the standards of his peers. Indeed, does anyone seriously believe that Gerald Ford was able to survive a quarter-century of backslapping bonhomie on Capitol Hill without indulging or exchanging a few bad dialect jokes himself?

But this town, you see, reeks of multi-standard hypocrisy when it comes to such incidents. Bad jokes and offensive remarks about Italians, Jews, blacks, Poles, Arabs, Irish, Latins, you-name-it, go for a dime a dozen, even by today's inflated standards, in the corridors of Washington power and social acceptability.

Then, once every few years, along comes some poor klutz, or Butz, to put his foot in his mouth before the wrong audience. And the air is filled with shrieks of righteous, if selective, political and editorial indignation.

Yet, to say all this isn't to excuse Earl Butz for a grievous political offense. It's only to focus accurately on the nature of that offense: not that the man told a dialect joke about the Pope, but rather, that he had the poor judgment to think that, with the exception of Elliot Richardson, any cabinet officer appointed by Richard Nixon could kick his verbal shoes off in a room full of newsmen.

Just in jest

The consumer boycott of food products that have skyrocketed in cost because of the astronomical increase in the price of sugar, is beginning to show interesting results. In fact, this boycott has apparently hit some of the food processors where it hurts — and when food processors start hurting, you can expect the worst. The worst in this instance, I fear, is the suggestion that to help food processors stay in business the government should remove the ban on cyclamates, an artificial sweetener. — In case you have forgotten, the reason cyclamates were originally banned was because they were held to be a possible cause of cancer.

RAY CROMLEY

Vladivostok deal a Trojan horse?

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Ford-Kissinger-Brezhnev "breakthrough" in the control of nuclear weapons is a facade of words — an illusion. More generously, it is a hope, nothing more.

According to men close to the National Security Council and the Pentagon, there is no agreement. There is only an agreement to try to reach an agreement. It is as though a man says to a local real estate agent that he desires to buy a house and the agent says he will attempt to find one he thinks is suitable, according to his own concept of suitability, not necessarily to the concept of suitability as seen by our man who wants to buy. There is no arrangement on a site, a method of payment or on precisely what the house will be like, except in terms which can be read in any way the reader chooses. That is to say the agent can interpret the terms one way, the potential buyer in another.

Thus we are now back to where we were years ago when the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks with the Soviet Union were first conceived. Both sides, then as now, affirmed they wanted to find a way to a treaty.

The understanding has these omissions, according to officials who are working on disarmament matters:

There is no agreement on the weight of missiles, individually or collectively. There is no limit on the number of MIRV warheads to be allowed on each missile, an omission which could make a catastrophic difference in relative defense strength.

There is no statement on whether larger missiles can be put in existing silos. Nothing in fact is said about the number or the size of silos. Yet regulation of silo size is essential in controlling the power of missiles.

Spot inspections, a must when dealing with MIRVs or with missiles hidden in mountain caverns, is not provided for.

The numbers mentioned in the briefings are so large as to be meaningless. They impose no restrictions on either the USSR or the United States. Both countries under this understanding will be permitted to spend or, arm or upgrade their forces as thoroughly as they could possibly desire.

Even the general objectives slated are weasel-worded. Secretary Brezhnev allowed the United States to insert a phrase which to us means equality. Mr. Ford allowed Brezhnev to insert a phrase which to the Russians means they have the right to superiority in missiles and other arms because of their need to deal with the China threat as well.

This dual phrasing, in traditional Kissinger fashion, allows the Russians to interpret the understanding in one fashion and the United States to interpret it in another.

Today, Kissinger believes that if he can reach an agreement with an adversary, no matter what the substance, he has made progress toward peace and security. He is convinced statements of intention commit both sides to move forward. He thinks this gives him the opportunity to step in to keep that momentum.

This reasoning has a certain logic. It is easy, in fact, to be convinced, since we want so badly to be assured peace and security are just around the corner if only we can reach the correct formula.

But if we read Kissinger's pre-White House-State Department dissertations, we find him saying we must be highly suspicious of U.S.-USSR agreements with little substance. Kissinger argued then that the Kremlin would almost surely use such token understanding to lull this country into inaction and defense laxness while vigorously pursuing armament and subversion.

800-543-2393

Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions—fast. It costs you nothing. Call Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. or write Heartline, 8514 North Main St., Dayton, Ohio, 45415. Remember, Heartline pays for all calls on its toll-free number . . . 800-543-2393.

Heartline: My husband worked 4½ years under Civil Service. Is he entitled to any retirement pay based on this service? — H.W.

Answer: Probably not. He must have worked at least five years as a civilian to attain retirement eligibility. However, all of these five years do not have to be covered by deductions; just one during the last two do, assuming he last separated from federal service on or after Oct. 1, 1956.

Heartline: Can I call my local Veteran's Administration about the CHAMPUS program? — M.H.

Answer: The Veteran's Administration does not administer the CHAMPUS PROGRAM. For information regarding the CHAMPUS program, you can contact the medical officer of the nearest military installation or you can write to the Executive Director, CHAMPUS, Denver, Colorado 80240.

Heartline: Why is the additional amount payable to railroad employees vested for dual benefit referred to as a windfall, and how is it determined? — J.K.

Answer: It is referred to as a windfall because it reflects the advantageous tax-benefit ratio provided under the previous law for individuals receiving separate railroad retirement and Social Security benefits. This is taken into account by computing the windfall as the amount by which the sum of two separately computed Social Security benefits, one based on railroad credits only and one based on Social Security credits only, exceeds a single Social Security benefit based on combined railroad retirement and Social Security credits earned through 1974.

For persons on the rolls, it cannot be used to exceed the total benefits from both systems that they were receiving on December 31, 1974. An employee's windfall amount may increase for Social Security cost-of-living increases effective in any interim between changeover and his retirement, but after his retirement, it will be frozen and not increased thereafter.

Heartline: Where can I get information about Black Lung benefits? — R.S.

Answer: Your local Social Security office has all the necessary information regarding Black Lung benefits.

We would like to inform our readers that Heartline will be closed all day Tuesday, December 24, and Wednesday, December 25.

ANN LANDERS

High-level businessman writing off call girls as expense is hopeless

DEAR ANN: I was irritated by the secretary who resented having to prepare "phony" expense accounts for her boss. I'd like to point out that the word "secretary" is a derivative of the word "secret." It's her job to keep her mouth shut.

Certain expense account items must be phonied. They can't be handled any other way. For example: The government will not accept as a legitimate deduction payments made for "female companionship" for a client. Sometimes this item can run into $200 for an evening. So what is the boss supposed to do? He must come up with something that is acceptable. He simply asks his secretary to put down "dinner party for the Smiths of St. Louis."

Get with it, Ann. Learn how the world of high-level business operates, and knock off the Pollyanna routine. — Victim Of The Economy

Dear Vic: If providing clients with call girls and writing it off as "entertaining the Smiths of St. Louis" is your idea of "high-level business" you're a hopeless case, Bub. Please read on.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter you printed from the secretary who resented doing her boss's phony expense accounts may have helped make businessmen more honest. (She said she hated being an accomplice to his chiseling and felt guilty because she knew darned well he was charging personal expenses to the business.)

By printing that letter, Ann, you made thousands of men aware that their secretaries are on to them. These days when people are becoming more concerned with honesty and truthfulness (probably becuase there has been such an absence of these virtues at every level), such a letter can do a lot of good. Thank you for printing it. — Trying Harder To Measure Up

Dear Trying: If I shook up a few chiselers around the country, I'm glad. Those birds have been a flagrant and fearless lot for too long.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: our daughter is still having nightmares from a Halloween stunt dreamed up by a mother who wanted to do "something different." I am enclosing the newspaper account to verify my story. It is so fantastic you'd probably think I made it up.

The children, some very young, were welcomed to a coffin on the front porch of this woman who lives on our street. The coffin was disguised by a drapery of sheets. Two candles burned dimly at the head of it. Agonized groans could be heard from someone who was lying in the box.

As the children were encouraged to move closer, a pale, wrinkled hand offered "treats."

The mother with this terrific "ingenuity" was aided by her 22-year-old son who was lying in the coffin. To many children (besides my own) that experience will be unforgettable. They will forever have distorted notions of death and funerals as well as Halloween. What a horrible thing to do to young minds. Isn't there enough fright in the world without adding such a gruesome antic? Please comment, Ann. — A Mother.

Dear Mother: What is there to say? Only a sick mind could have hatched such a grotesque scene. That son of hers must be a dilly, too. In my opinion, children should not be allowed to go trick-or-treating without an adult — and dime store toys should be substituted for food. Sad how the world has changed, isn't it?

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Astrographs

BY BERNICE BEDE OSOL
For Wednesday, Dec. 11

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A frustrating condition is about to change. You'll be better able to come to grips with it and reduce it to a manageable size.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't let any more time go by regarding a business situation that you're displeased with. Work it out at once, if possible.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Team effort is called for today. Be sure you're equally as industrious as your counterpart, or he'll get bugged with you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The early part of the day, you'll be somewhat lackadaisical about your chores. By afternoon, you'll have a full head of steam up.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You need a slight change of pace now. Plan something for this evening that is pleasurable so the week won't seem so long and draggy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your patience is very thin-skinned today, especially toward evening when you might be grumpier to family members than is usual.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll evoke resentment from others if your remarks are too sharp or cutting today. Think carefully before you speak.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're too concerned now as to whether you'll get what's coming to you. Your actions will lead others to think you're selfish.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be careful you don't overreact if everything doesn't go exactly your way. You can be firm; just don't be too forceful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Something will occur today that will annoy you. Bring it out in the open. Clear it up quickly rather than hide it and let it smolder.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You'll leave something important half-finished, thinking you'll get back to it later. You won't. Valuable time will be lost.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In competitive situations, don't be bluffed by your opponent. The odds favor you to come out on top.

Your Birthday Dec. 11

This year will find you in several very ambitious undertakings where you'll put all your chips down and play to win. If you rely on effort and not luck, you'll do OK.

An off-ramp on the freeway of life

By JOSEPH H. FIRMAN

"You can't miss it."

This innocent phrase has launched me onto more wrong roads than Standard Oil has highway maps. If all the miles I have wandered astray after hearing that comfortable untruism were placed end to end, with interlocking detours and off-ramps, they would reach to the moon. Which I would miss.

There is some magic about the expression, some hypnotic quality that automatically blanks out that section of my mind used for finding my way somewhere, like home.

In my day I have missed large red barns on empty fields, silos towering like lighthouses on a prairie, steepled churches, covered bridges and "the third traffic signal."

In an apparent attempt to keep the spirit of the pathfinder alive in the breast of the American motorist, gasoline companies have issued a library-full of neatly folded but unrefoldable maps whose tangled lines and cabalistic numbers are readily comprehensible to any trained engineer or navigator.

I have found more coherence in a plate of spaghetti, which the road map strongly resembles.

On a recent trip into unfamiliar environs, I found myself driving down a road that wasn't even on the map, searching for a street that was on the map but wasn't built yet. This way lie complexes.

Fortunately for the average motorist, he has his wife to guide him through the perplexities of the modern highway system, to comfort him with whispered maledictions when he is lost, and to salve his wounded ego with epithets ranging through the whole gamut of the mentally retarded.

"There's Banana Street," she will say—and so it is. You turn. So far, so good. But then conjecture rears its ugly head.

"I think we go right at the next stop," says your co-pilot. You go right, and you are wrong.

"According to the map," she says, "we should be in Bridgeport." Since Bridgeport is two states away, you stop the car and take the map gently from her little hands, being careful not to get bitten.

Safely oriented, you start out again, but now you have another problem. Your fellow traveler is miffed at your implication that she is mentally slightly below par. Now she is against you, sullen, silent, hoping you will go wrong again. You do.

And then—inevitable as the sunrise—comes the loathsome suggestion, "Ask somebody!"

A wife will ask directions from anyone—runny-nosed urchins, feeble-minded service station attendants, drunks, escaped convicts, the village idiot. Anyone, she feels—and states openly—knows more than her husband.

At this point in your search, with tension mounting and your wife prefacing every remark with "Any fool knows . . ." it is better to resign yourself to letting her pore over the map and give directions. You may never get there, but it won't be your fault.

Lead kindly wife.

Colors of costumes make women's moods

Young lady, is there just one certain color of costume that tends to make you feel better when you wear it? And some other particular color that makes you feel bad? A theorist in the clothing business contends he's now positive that each woman is so influenced. When she's dressed up in her special hue, he says, she's automatically comfortable, confident and optimistic. But in her contrary color, she's likely to be tense, uneasy and somewhat critical. He's of the opinion that men are not so color sensitive, but he doesn't know why.

A WIFE in Burma legally becomes the head of her household if she can prove her husband drinks too much.

ONE OUT OF every five sons of lawyers likewise goes into law.

EXPERIENCE

Q. "Your Love and War man said the best type of girl for a man to marry is a sympathetic experienced woman with a sense of humor. What does he mean by experienced?"

A. Any girl who has worked at a job which has kept her in contact with grown men in a business routine can be classified as experienced, he says.

Q. "WHY IS IT the left drumstick of a chicken almost invariably is more tender than the right drumstick?"

A. Am advised most chickens sleep on the right leg, so develop tougher muscles there.

Q. "WHAT'S the ratio of attempted suicides to actual suicides?"

A. About ten to one.

COOKING

Client asks what nationality most deserves the credit for the development of cooking as we know it today in the western world. The Italians, undoubtedly. They started to make an art out of it even before the Renaissance. Their techniques spread after Catherine de Medici took some Italian cooks to Paris with her when she married the King of France. Before the Italians began to get fancy, cooking was pretty much the matter of burning meat over an open fire. Incidentally, the Italians were first to use table forks, too.

UNFORTUNATELY, this husband's telegram to his wife contained a typographical error, reading: "Having a wonderful time wish you were her." Pity.

THE DOCTOR COMMENTS

Xray reveals fat around the heart

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I just had a yearly chest Xray and it was described as unremarkable. The report then said there was a prominent right pericardial fat pad. What does this mean and what should I do about it?

I'm 60 years of age, 5-foot-4, and weigh 165. I know all about dieting, but am never successful at it.

DEAR READER — To paraphrase Mark Twain's remarks on stopping smoking, you know all about dieting, you have dieted so often to lose weight.

You are on the right track about what that pericardial fat pad means. One of the places fat accumulates is on membranes, like the membranes between the intestinal loops. The pericardium is simply a membranous sac around the heart. You have an accumulation of fat there.

This does not mean the fat is in the heart muscle or even that there is fat in the arteries to the heart muscle. It is a reflection of your weight problem. It is true, though, that people who have obesity problems tend to have more health problems. The way to eliminate the fat pad is to eliminate all of your excess fat.

The key to being successful, when you know all about dieting, is consistency. You might find that a good well-balanced diet that isn't too strict will help over a long period of time. For help, you can write to me at P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019, and ask for my booklet on losing weight. Send 50 cents to cover costs.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 15 years old and starting high school. I like sports and all of the sciences. I plan to become a doctor. I'm doing well in everything except sports. No matter how hard I try, I'm still no good. I do all of the warm-ups and exercises required to the utmost of my ability. I even work out at home, on my own time, lifting weights, jogging, and stuff like that. I'm still no good, no matter how hard I try. Am I leaving something out, or is something wrong with me physically?

DEAR READER — We all have various levels of ability in different fields, sometimes called talent. One person has a musical talent and can play instruments or sing with ease, another has an inborn art talent.

The level of one's inherent ability determines whether it is easy or hard to do something. The same applies to sports. You can improve your ability by proper training. Some people have muscle fibers that have a quick twitch, and others a slow twitch. These differences are important in tasks involving speed.

I suspect that a great deal can be done to improve an individual's coordination, speed, and responses. A person low on talent may need special physical-type training as analogous to special reading classes for youngsters with handicaps in reading. Not much is done about it because the emphasis is on the individual who already has a talent that can be developed.

In any case, being a slow learner in the sports field does not mean there is anything wrong with you physically. It means sports achievement will be much harder for you.

About this and that

The first edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica was published in 1771, in Edinburgh. The thistle, national flower of Scotland, remains the emblem of that publication, honoring its origins.

Kissing the Blarney Stone, found atop a castle in Ireland by hanging upside down 80 feet in the air, is said to confer the "gift of gab."

THE LIGHTER SIDE

'Twas the night before confirmation

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The committee will come to order. Gentlemen, we have before us today the nomination of Kris Kringle, otherwise known as St. Nicholas, or Santa Claus, to be Vice President of the United States.

"Please be seated, sir. We are delighted to have you here to clear up certain matters that have arisen with respect to your confirmation. Do you have a question, Senator Byrd?"

"Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Mr. Kringle, our records show that in the past 10 years you have given away more than 3 billion toys, dolls and other playthings to approximately 60 million good little girls and boys.

"This committee would like to know the circumstances under which these gifts were made."

"Certainly, senator. And may I say I appreciate the opportunity of coming before you to answer certain allegations and insinuations that have appeared in the media and elsewhere concerning my activities.

"First of all I would like to say I have never at any time given a good little boy or girl a toy with the expectation of receiving something in return.

"Occasionally, a boy or girl may leave a cookie or some other goodie for me on the mantlepiece. But since they are always in bed when I come down the chimney, there is no possibility of making any deals with them."

"I'm pleased to hear you say that, Mr. Kringle. But if you expected nothing substantial in return, why did you give away billions of toys?"

"I'll be glad to answer that, Senator. These gifts were given to encourage goodness among boys and girls, some of whom vould not otherwise afford to be good."

"The thing that disturbs me, Mr. Kringle, is whether one man should be in the position of determining who has been naughty and who has been nice."

"Let me just say that these gifts represent only a small fraction of the production capacity of my family's top shop at the North Pole.

"When I give away 3 billion toys, it's like the average person giving some child a tricycle, an electric train or a white fur muff."

"I'm not questioning your right as a private citizen to give away toys. But as I see it, it wouldn't be proper for the Vice President to be popping in and out of chimneys with a sack full of toys on his back."

"I understand your position, senator, and I pledge to this committee that if I am confirmed I will pack away my red suit and turn my reindeer out to pasture for the duration of my term."

"In that case, Mr. Chairman, I see no reason to further delay action on this appointment."

Oil and gas believed on Atlantic shelf

PHOENIX, Ariz., (UPI) — Dr. V. E. McKelvey, director of the U.S. Geological Survey, said Monday that considerable oil and gas is believed to exist on the Atlantic outer continental shelf, but there is no way to accurately estimate the amount.

McKelvey, addressing the Interstate Oil Compact Commission's winter meeting, said there has been new geophysical and geologic data uncovered over the past two years, but that it is still not enough for a proper estimate.

McKelvey said the petroleum potential of the Atlantic outer continental shelf must be expressed as "undiscovered recoverable resources" and that his department estimated there was between 10 and 20 billion barrels of oil and between 55 and 110 trillion cubic feet of natural gas.

He noted that the Mobil Oil Co. earlier had estimated 6 billion barrels of oil and 31 trillion cubic feet of gas.

"I must stress the word 'potential' for no wells have been drilled and therefore nothing exists that in any way can be described as reserves of either oil or gas," McKelvey said.

McKelvey said the Atlantic area would be a "marvelous place" to find oil and gas, noting that the Atlantic coastal region "is the largest oil-consuming area" of the United States. He said the area produces almost none of the 6 ¼-million barrels of oil it uses each day.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) was drafted in 1946. Its functions are to ease trade barriers and establish rules of fair trade, The World Almanac says. In recent years, the GATT organization has made special efforts to develop international trade and also has given particular emphasis to increasing the export trade of developing countries.

Prevent wrinkling of your umbrella by allowing it to dry in an open position. Avoid leaving a closed umbrella in the sun because it will develop faded streaks.

Draft foes unable to find jobs

RALEIGH N.C. (UPI) — At least 13 draft resisters signing up for President Ford's amnesty program in North Carolina have been unable to find jobs to qualify for the program, according to the state director of Selective Service.

William H. McCachren said that under the amnesty program, violators are required to take public service jobs or jobs with non-profit organizations.

Participants must get jobs approved by the Selective Service within 30 days of their application for amnesty, McCachren said. However, those who fail to find jobs in that period are not penalized so long as they "actively" seek employment.

McCachren said as a matter of practice, he and his staff help participants look for jobs after 20 days.

"There is a high unemployment index in North Carolina," he said. "The job market is tight in some areas. Normally we would have jobs available."

The jobs must involve some work for the public good and McCachren said there is considerable flexibility in the kind of job that will meet with approval.

Boycott of schools next in book controversy

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The next step in Kanawha County's ban-the-books protest may be a one-day boycott of its schools.

Three churchmen have led a 3½ month crusade against hundreds of school books they feel are obscene and un-American, and one of them, the Rev. Marvin Horan, said "I'm calling on all the parents who are against the textbooks to hold their children out of school on Tuesday."

The books involved are in classrooms or school libraries, some requiring parental permission before pupils may read them.

Horan, a leader of the controversy since it flared in early September, proposed the boycott in connection with this week's National Education Association (NEA) hearings in Charleston.

The NEA will take testimony on the textbook issue from school officials, teachers, business leaders and others in hearing running thruogh Wednesday. Four of the five members of the Kanawha County Board of Education apparently will refuse to take part in the hearings.

One, Harry Stansbury, said the hearings came at a bad time because the textbook dispute had settled down and was headed for the courts. He said the hearings may stir up the controversy again.

The book dispute had the county in turmoil for several weeks, triggering violence, strikes and high absenteeism in the schools.

It has been quiet in the county for several weeks, and classroom attendance has been normal.

U.S. guidelines for buying gold

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government advised consumers who plan to buy gold when private ownership of the precious metal becomes legal Dec. 31 to carefully consider 14 guidelines before making any purchase.

The guidelines —compiled by the Department of Justice, Federal Trade Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, U.S. Postal Service and the President's Special Assistant for Consumer Affairs —cautioned prospective buyers to:

1. Be wary of unsolicited correspondence or calls from strangers offering to sell you gold or gold investments.

2. Be skeptical of promises of spectacular profits. Ask yourself: "Why am I being offered this golden opportunity?"

3. Resist pressures to make hurried, uninformed investment decisions.

4. Be suspicious of claims of new, secret or exotic processes to extract gold.

5. Seek independent advice from a person you trust and who is knowledgeable.

6. Consider the risks in relation to your own financial position and needs.

7. Find out if the company has registered with the SEC or state securities agency.

8. Attempt to determine the seller's mark-up (the difference between the cost of the gold to the seller and the price being charged to you).

9. Find out what costs, in addition to the quoted price of gold, are involved. For example, you may be required to pay a refining charge, assay fees, commissions, shipping and storage fees, insurance costs and sales tax.

10. Demand a written guarantee concerning weight and fineness (pureness). Some gold bears a refiner's mark assaying its weight and fineness; however, there are no federal standards.

11. Attempt to make your purchases through local reputable firms. (Firms including the term "Exchange" in their name should not be assumed to constitute an association or group of firms which provide a public market for buyers and sellers).

12. Obtain in writing the terms of your purchase. Fro example, when and how the gold will be delivered and stored, including what security precautions will be taken to insure that your gold is not shaved or that counterfeit gold is not substituted;

13. Ask whether the gold will be segregated and stored in your name (not the seller's or supplier's). Make sure you receive a written receipt showing that the requisite amount of gold is being stored for your account by a reputable concern.

14. Ask whether there will be a ready market for the gold in the form being offered to you. You may have to pay to have your gold reassayed, recast into a different shape, or transported to a distant market before you can sell it.

Arrest another in huge Beverly Hills robbery

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — Another suspect has been arrested in connection with last month's birthday party holdup in which 33 guests were robbed of $78,000, police said Monday.

Lt. Charles Mann said Theopolis Wilson, 27, was arrested at his home in Kansas City, Mo., Friday on a local warrant charging him with armed robbery.

Wilson was believed to be among three armed men who tied up guests as they arrived at the birthday party Nov. 2 at the Beverly Hills Hotel, and robbed them of an estimated $78,000 in cash and jewelry, police said.

Andrew Johnson, 21, of Los Angeles was arrested two days after the incident and is currently awaiting trial.

Extradition proceedings for Wilson are pending in Kansas City, police said.

Does Lindora think Losing Weight is easy?

It is not a simple task for a patient to reach and maintain "lean weight" for life. First the patient must have an honest desire to cure his problem... then accept professional guidance from trained Medical Doctors.

Lindora's unique 10-week treatment and training program will teach patients how to reach and maintain their "lean weight" for life. A safe and practical plan, with proper nutritional diet, and continual emotional support. New audio and sub-liminal visual aids are used to motivate the patient. The entire program is under the strict supervision of Medical Doctors, specialists in Bariatric Medicine.

Lindora Clinics are owned and administered by Medical Doctors that restrict their practice to Bariatrics. ALL Clinic Personnel are licensed by the State of California.

Kilmer, punter's goof wreck Rams

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES — It isn't often a punter can lose a game with his arm or his head.

But Mike Burke of the Rams may have done exactly that Monday night as the hometowners disappointed 87,313 fans at the Coliseum.

The Rams, as usual, dominated the first quarter jumping off to a quick 10-0 lead. But then they lost their momentum and the football game, 23-17 to the visiting Washington Redskins.

Burke was a major factor in the loss of momentum.

The Redskins earned their first touchdown. Billy Kilmer drove the visitors 66 yards in six plays, passing 27 yards to Roy Jefferson for the first of his three second-quarter touchdown aerials.

Bill Nelson blocked the extra point attempt and it looked as though the Rams were still in control.

At this point the Rams' mistakes began. A 27-yard run by Lawrence McCutcheon on the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff was nullified by an illegal procedure penatly.

With a first and 15 on their own 18-yard line, the Rams were able to advance only five yards in three plays. That put them in a fourth and 10 situation on their own 23.

Enter Burke. Ostensibly the one time Southern California Sun player came in to kick the ball, not throw it.

But throw it he did. His pass for Tony Plummer, a defensive back, missed by a mile and the 'Skins took over on the Ram 23.

Four plays later, Kilmer had another TD and the Redskins went ahead to stay.

"We didn't send in a fake punt play on Burke's incomplete pass," Ram coach Chuck Knox said. "We just had a mixup. If he (Burke) spots somebody open, he has the option of trowing the ball."

Burke might have an option to throw, but there is a time and place for such a move and this was neither. When Burke came off the field, Knox was observed talking heatedly to him and gesturing violently with the program he carries rolled up in his right hand.

"We weren't surprised the Rams tried to pass in a punt situation," said Redskins coach George Allen. "We were just surprised they tried it at that time."

Before the half was over, Burke got off a 27-yard punt from his own 36 to the Washington 39. He also hit a 42-yard line drive that Joe Theismann returned 44 yards to set up the third Redskin TD.

Meanwhile Kilmer was doing what he does best. Build a fire under the 'Skins offense and burn the Ram defenders. Dave Elmendorf, Charlie Stukes and Al Clark came out of this one badly scorched.

After Theismann's long punt return, Kilmer took the Redskins to their third touchdown of the quarter in five plays, passing to tight end Jerry Smith for the score.

For the game, the 35-year-old former UCLA star completed 19 of 29 passes for 269 yards and three touchdowns. A fourth, a 15-yarder to Charlie Taylor, was nullified on an offensive pass interference penalty. The drive ended with Mike Bragg kicking a third-period 25-yard field goal. In 1971, Kilmer connected on 14 of 19 passes for 240 yards and three touchdowns as Washington knocked Ram playoff hopes askew with a 38-24 victory.

Critics keep saying Kilmer doesn't have much of an arm anymore. But the man's accomplishments cannot be denied.

"Billy did an outstanding job for us," Allen told writers. "He's a tremendous competitor. We gave him the game ball because this is the fourth straight year he's led us into the playoffs."

Kilmer, called "Whiskey" because of his gravelly, high-pitched voice, was dressing hurriedly when located by writers.

"I've got to get going," he grinned, "so go ahead and fire away. My mom, dad and 13-year-old daughter are all waiting for me. We wanted to win this game BAD. We wanted to clinch the playoff berth tonight, not have to wait until Sunday."

By winning, Washington eliminated Dallas and Detroit and moved into a first-place tie with St. Louis for the NFC Eastern Division with a 9-4 record, the same as the Rams now have.

Either the Redskins or Cardinals will be back Dec. 22 to meet the Rams in the opening round of the NFL Playoffs. If the 'Skins don't play the Rams in Los Angeles, they'll meet the Vikings in Minnesota.

"I'd like to come back here again," admitted Kilmer. "But both the Rams and Vikings are tough. Actually I don't think the Rams played to their potential tonight. They might have been keeping some things back. They gave me very basic (pass) coverages. We had to win this game. Mentally I don't think the Rams were ready to go all out."

Going into the game, the Rams were number one in defense in the NFC and the 'Skins were number two. The Redskins were fourth in offense and the Rams were fifth.

"Maybe we just tried harder," grinned Allen.

Chalk up one for Avis!

BILLY HAS PLENTY OF TIME

Washington quarterback Billy Kilmer, the former Citrus High, Citrus College and UCLA star, has plenty of protection as he is about to fire one of his three touchdown passes to defeat the Rams.

Fortunately, it's not too serious

You've probably heard or read about freak accidents ending the careers of athletes.

Last week it looked as though that kind of story would develop right here in the valley. Three Chino High football players were victims of a classroom explosion, and initial indication didn't look very bright for at least one of the three.

But fortunately it doesn't look as serious as first thought.

Starting defensive tackle Marty Edens, a 5-11, 180 pound junior, was the most seriously hurt of the three athletes and is presently recovering in the hospital.

"We've all been over to seem him," indicated Chino High athletic director Bud Carroll. "Marty had the most extensive surgery on his shoulder. Apparently a welding tip richocheted off his shoulder and hit him in the jaw, where he had a pretty big laceration.

"As far as football is concerned, Carroll added, "I'm really not qualified to say whether or not he'll be able to play next year. But I don't see why the injury should affect him that much."

The incident occurred late Wednesday morning in the auto shop department of the high school. Mike Ricottone, the shop teacher, was apparently using a 55-gallon drum as a welding bench when the barrell exploded. Ricottone, of Bellflower, has been in very poor condition in a Tustin Hospital.

The two other football players involved in the accident have been released from the hospital. Stan Surina, a 6-0, 180 pound All-San Antonio League defensive lineman, was treated for flash burns of the eyes and returned home.

Larry Trujillo, a 5-10, 160 pound junior, was treated and released almost immediately.

"The first indications looked very serious," Carroll pointed out. "But now it looks like they'll all pull out of it pretty well."

That's obviously good news.

Some basketball optimism

Garey High head basketball coach Mike Wells has assured that his Vikings will do better this week than they did last week. All they did last week was capture the Upland-Montclair Tournament championship, but struggled to victories in their last two outings.

Garey's 44-43 win over Fullerton last Saturday night had some people wondering if the Vikings were as mighty as expected. If they continue to have their problems, the San Antonio League race might be a little bit more interesting than expected. However, Wells doesn't think hs Vikings will be down for long.

It may be somewhat of a consolation, but Bonita High can now look forward to a successful basketball campaign. The football season, unfortunately, came to an end last week in the CIF playoffs. Now the eight football players who also play basketball will put away their spikes and pull out their tennis shoes.

Players like quarterback Harold Drake, wide receiver Dave Drury, halfback Larry Franco, fullback Brad Frick and receiver Scott Johnson should make it a very exciting year for the Bearcats in basketball.

Unusual tournament

Pomona High will be conducting what it is calling the First Annual Pomona High Junior Varsity Tournament of Defense.

"The tournament will emphasize and stress defense," states Pomona head basketball coach Ed Taylor. "We're not trying to eliminate the offensive phase of the game, but simply give credit to the coaches and ballplayers who are aware and conscious of defense. Also it helps open the eyes of coaches, players and fans who are not so conscious of the importance of defense."

Some of the methods of determining the tournament champion includes holding the opponent to lowest point total, defensive rebounding, lowest amount of turnovers, lowest amount of team fouls, and most team recoveries.

It ought to be interesting.

Griffin surprised at honor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Ohio State's star running back Archie Griffin said today he was surprised to be selected college football's Player of the Year by United Press International and considers it "a great honor."

The 5-foot-9, 184-pound junior running back was studying for final examinations today when informed of the award.

The little speedster had just returned from Florida and a Kodak All-American Team picture taking session after deciding not to go to New York City for tonight's National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame celebration. He said he had changed his mind because of his need for last-minute studying with a friend at his apartment here.

"I'm studying real hard for the tests," he said, adding he presently is giving no thought to the future other than getting a position in industrial relations. He indicated he was more concerned about passing tests than gathering honors.

But he's also been busy collecting post-season awards. Last week the Columbus native was awarded the Heisman Trophy, college football's top accolade.

Griffin, proclaimed by OSU Coach Woody Hayes as "the best football player I've ever seen," had little trouble getting his latest laurels. He received nearly six times as many votes as his nearest competitor, Oklahoma's junior running back Joe Washington, in the balloting of sports writers and sportscasters from across the nation.

The Buckeye back, a consistent 100-plus yard ground gainer all season, was picked as the Player of the Year on 57 of the 80 ballots cast, while Washington received 10. Southern California's Anthony Davis, runnerup to Griffin in Heisman balloting, failed to get a single vote.

Honorable mentions went to quarterbacks Steve Bartkowski of California, Steve Joachim of Temple, Tom Clements of Notre Dame and Freddie Solomon of Tampa, running back Tony Dorsett of Pittsburgh and defensive tackle Randy White of Maryland.

Griffin became the first junior to win the UPI award since O. J. Simpson of Southern Cal in 1967.

Griffin piled up more than 100 yards in each of Ohio State's 11 games and set an NCAA record of 22 consecutive games in which he topped the century mark.

By the end of the season Griffin had gained 1,620 yards and averaged 147.3 a game, to finish second nationally behind Utah State's Louie Giammona, who averaged 153.4. The OSU speedster, however, carried the ball nearly 100 times less than Giammona, and his average of 6.7 yards a carry was the nation's tops.

Hayes said it was no surprise to him to hear his all-American back was UPI's No. 1 player of the year, for he had been an outstanding player each game.

Griffin is the fourth OSU player to win UPI Player of the Year honors since the award was started in 1950, when the Buckeyes' Vic Janowicz got it. Bob Ferguson won the award in 1961.

Griffin's teammate Brian Baschnagel, a junior wingback from Pittsburgh, seconded Hayes' evaluation of Griffin.

"It's amazing how he brings us all together," Baschnagel commented. "He means everything to our offense."

Romans play at MSAC

Royal Oak High's luck is at a peak. The Romans, (9-2-1), who will play Burroughs in the CIF 2-A semifinals, won the coin toss and will host the team from Ridgecrest.

The Romans and coach Len Mussack have selected Mt. San Antonio College as the site of Friday night's 8 p.m. contest.

Royal Oak, who finished runnerup in the Hacienda League with a 5-1-1 ledger, have beaten Calexico (20-6), Yucaipa (35-0) and No. 1 ranked El Dorado (18-15) and have a 9-2-1 season mark.

Burroughs (9-3), co-champs of the Golden League, have beaten Mt. Carmel, Agoura and Arlington.

Orioles' skipper glad to be alive

WASHINGTON, Pa. (UPI) — Earl Weaver, manager of the Baltimore Orioles, says he is glad to be alive.

Weaver, his wife and parents were among seven persons injured Monday in a four-vehicle collision on Interstate 70 about eight miles east of this southwestern Pennsylvania community.

Weaver, 44, and his wife, Marianna, 39, were released after treatment at Washington Hospital where his parents, Earl Sr., 73, and Ethel, 71, were detained.

Weaver said his mother suffered an injury to her kneecap and will require surgery. She was listed in satisfactory condition today.

"But Dad seems to be alright," Weaver said at a motel here following the accident. "I have a lump on my head and my wife has scratches all over her body."

The three other persons injured were reported in guarded condition.

"We're thankful we got out alive," Weaver said.

State police said a pickup truck was hit from the rear by a tractor-trailer which in turn was hit from the rear by two automobiles. The second auto was operated by Weaver.

He said the highway was ice-covered and the roadway was blocked by the jack-knifed tractor-trailer.

"With the ice, there was no way of stopping," he said. "I just thought of trying to stop the car. I just couldn't stop it because it was all ice. I guess when we hit we weren't going any more that 20 or 25 mph, but by that time we finally hit the truck."

Weaver said he and his wife and parents were enroute from Baltimore to St. Louis.

USC coach just playing it cool

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — USC's basketball team is off to a great start this season but nobody is getting overly excited in the Trojans' camp.

Even head coach Bob Boyd realizes most of the attention at USC these days center on the Rose Bowl.

The Trojans are 3-0 and scoring big. All three victories have been over the 100-point figure. As a team, USC is shooting at a 55.7 per cent clip.

But Boyd isn't about to make wild statements or predictions. He is playing it cool.

"I hope the teams we're playing are compatible with what we'll face in the Pacific-8 Conference," Boyd said at Monday's weekly basketball luncheon at The Blarney Castle Restaurant.

It should be noted Pac-8 teams are 23-1 thus far this season.

"I don't want to minimize our accomplishments but let's face it, these pre-league games don't mean a damn thing," Boyd said. "Our high priorities are the conference games."

USC will host Nevada, Reno (3-0) at the Sports Arena Friday night before traveling to tough Houston next Monday in the first road game of the season.

"I'll know more about our team when we go to Houston," Boyd explained. "Houston is always tough at home and its losses this season have been to Louisville and North Carolina, two very good teams."

Boyd is happy about his team's 74 assists in the three games.

"That figure is very good, especially for the type of offense we are using," he explained.

But Boyd isn't pleased with the rebounding.

"I still think rebounding is one of our major problems," he said. "I am also concerned with our inability to sustain big halftime leads. We were ahead of Oklahoma State by 30 at halftime and Utah by 20 but both teams came back with 50 points in the second half. One of the things slowing down our momentum is fouls. We have been charged with 71 fouls in the three games."

USC is showing a better fast break this season and Boyd credits the defense for this.

"Most of our fast break opportunities have developed from defensive turnovers," he said.

Boyd also praised sophomore guard Casey Jones for his defensive work on Utah's Tinky Burden, who was held to a season low of 20 points.

"Casey was able to slip through the screens and stay with Burden," Boyd said.

Boyd revealed that his son, Bill, is officially a red shirt this season. He is sidelined with a foot injury and may require surgery.

John Lambert, USC's 6-11 center, was awarded the Adohr Farms' Player of the Week plaque for scoring 40 points and grabbing 27 rebounds in the wins over the weekend. He hit on 16 of 23 shots from the field.

Pac-8 rejects alternative bowl

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Pacific-8 Conference Monday rejected a policy which would have allowed its No. 2 team to play in a post-season football bowl game.

USC Coach John McKay, whose Trojans will play in the Rose Bowl as the Pac-8 representative, had suggested an alternative bowl opportunity for the conference non-Rose Bowl game officials had opposed the idea as undermining the Pasadena classic.

Pac-8 directors attending their annual winter meeting, in upholding the Rose Bowl exclusivity policy, otherwise agreed to "keep an open mind on the (second bowl) issue in the future," a spokesman said.

Ford to help honor seven grid inductees

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Ford, a former player and probably the biggest advocate of college football in presidential history, will be in attendance tonight at the annual National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame dinner where seven new inductees into the Hall of Fame and 11 scholar-athletes will be honored.

Last year the President received the Foundation's distinguished American award, which this year will be presented to comedian Bob Hope. Gerald Zorno, chairman of the board of Eastman-Kodak, will receive the Foundation's Gold Medal award.

President Ford was a starting center for Michigan in 1934, later coached at Yale and considers football one of his major sources of relaxation.

There will be more than 1,000 guests on hand tonight to honor the seven Hall of Fame inductees and salute the scholar-athletes.

Those being inducted into the Hall of Fame are Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch, a star halfback for Wisconsin and Michigan in the early 1940's who is now athletic director at Wisconsin; tackle John Ferraro of Southern California (1943-47), guard Barton Koch of Baylor (1929-31), end Mal Kutner of Texas (1938-42), guard-tackle Jim Parker of Ohio State (1954-56), quarterback Harry Agganis of Boston University (1949-52) and Barney Poole (1942-48), who because of wartime eligibility policies played a record seven years of college football with Mississippi, North Carolina and Army.

Agganis, a former star baseball player with the Boston Red Sox, and Koch are deceased. Parker, an all-pro selection with the Baltimore Colts for many years, also is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Four Rhodes Scholar candidates are among the scholar-athletes being honored. They are wide receiver Pete Demmerle of Notre Dame, wide receiver Pat McInally of Harvard, quarterback Pat Haden of Southern California and wide receiver Doug Martin of Vanderbilt.

Other scholar-athletes who will receive a $1,000 scholarship toward post-graduate study are center John Baiorunos of Penn State, fullback David Lynn Chambers of Colorado School of Mines, linebacker Bill Cregar of South Carolina, defensive tackle Randy Hall of Alabama, defensive end Tim Harden of Navy, safety Randy Hughes of Oklahoma and wide receiver Todd Toerper of Pittsburgh.

Demmerle and Hughes both were named to the UPI All-America first team last week while McInally was named to the second unit.

SOARING IN AIR — Ganesha High's Cleve Bell (22) gets off the ground for a layup in Giants' 88-74 win over Temple City Monday. Defending are Ken Smith (23) and Don Roberts (22).

Giants press way past Rams, 88-74

By CRAIG TRAVIS
P-B Staff Writer

Ganesha High may surprise some people this year and put pressure on its San Antonio League opponents.

Coach Gary Fulkerson's Giants (4-1) surprised Temple City Monday afternoon in a non-league basketball game and pressed their way to an 88-74 victory.

The Rams have yet to win a game (0-3) but midway through Monday's first quarter action coach Paul Peterson's crew looked like they would shoot their way past the smaller "Giants" easily.

Guard Ken Smith pumped in 14 of his team's 21 first quarter points and enabled the visitors to keep anywhere from a two-to-five point margin in that initial period.

Even more astounding was that the 6-2 senior letterman hit on six-of-seven shot attempts in the eight minutes and the Rams finished by connecting on nine-of-16.

Smith, who had scored 19 (against Chino) and 49 (against La Puente) picked right up where he left off and added 10 more points in the second stanza as the team hit seven-of-15 shots.

But the Giants' full-court press took its toll midway through the second period.

But the Ganesha full-court press had taken its toll by the 2:31 mark of the second stanza when George Terry's steal and pass to Don Barnes, who scored on a lay-up, tied the game at 31-31.

Smith hit a pair of jumpers from his usual spot — the top of the key — to put Temple City back on top and then the Giants went bananas, forcing turnover after turnover.

Trailing 37-33, Ganesha outscored the Rams 14-2 in the final minute-and-a-half led by Barnes, Terry and Frank Steger (who had eight points on the evening) and the hosts enjoyed a 47-39 halftime advantage, thanks to their 30 point second quarter.

Smith had 24 points after 16 minutes and hit on 10-of-14 shots for the Rams while Cleve Bell (15), Barnes (11), Paul Whitmore (8) and Ralph Dudley (5) paced Ganesha.

The third quarter was all Ganesha as Bell, Barnes and Dudley again created most of the scoring. The Giants outscored the Rams 22-14 with Bell tossing in six, Barnes pouring in 12 markers and Dudley adding four points.

The final period was even as the Ganesha reserves kept pace with the Temple City starters and enjoyed a one-point edge, 22-21, to capture its third straight win.

Barnes, defensively, in the second half held Smith to just five-of-15 field goals as the second team all-Rio Hondo performer finished the night with 38 points and connected on 15-of-28 from the floor. Temmates Brian Finley (13) and Mark Slater (10) also wound up in double figures.

Bell had 23 markers for Ganesha and had three steals, Barnes checked in with 25 points, 10 rebounds and a blocked shot, Dudley finished with 12 points, 10 caroms and had six assists. Terry had six points while coming off the bench and Mike Williams didn't score but hauled down 10 rebounds in a reserve role.

"We were sloppy today," said Fulkerson. "I wasn't pleased with our defense especially in that first half but we must have shot well (19-of-40) to have that lead.

Cleve Bell, (Ralph) Dudley, and (Don) Barnes did real well for us," said the Giant coach. "And (George) Terry and (Mike) Williams looked real good coming off the bench."

Pomona, Chaffey enjoy wins in first rounds of tourneys

Pomona High registered a first round victory in the Norco-Corona Basketball Tournament while Upland was dropping an 83-65 decision to Moreno Valley in Monday night's basketball action.

Chaffey, meanwhile, was busy routing El Monte, 77-56, in the opening round of the Arroyo Tourney.

Pomona advances to the second round of the championship bracket and will face Norco, a 59-53 winner over Victor Valley, tonight at 8 p.m. in the Norco Gym. Upland, enters the consolation bracket and opposes La Sierra, a 54-49 loser to El Modena at 3:15 p.m. in the Corona Gym.

Pomona used a balanced scoring attack and a devestating full court press to demolish Norte Vista, 76-56, at Norco High.

The Red Devils got 18 points from Pat Riggans, 16 from guard Derrick Thomas, and 14 each from John Wieman and Danny Wilson. Center John Witherell, starting in place of the injured Dave Zibell (dislocated finger — out 1-3 weeks), added eight points.

Pomona raced to a 19-9 first quarter advantage and extended the lead to 34-28 by intermission. The Red Devils outscored Norte Vista, 18-16, in the third period and then forced NV into submission with a 24-12 advantage in the final stanza.

"We pressed them from the very start of the ballgame," said coach Ed Taylor. "I think they only crossed midcourt six times in the quarter. And then applied more pressure in the final quarter and tried to get the five second call."

"We communicated together well on the press," continued the Pomona skipper. "It bothered Norte Vista greatly."

Kentucky, Notre Dame use speed to post cage upsets

By United Press International

Speed toppled a pair of college basketball's Goliaths Monday night.

Fifth-ranked North Carolina dropped a 90-78 decision to Kentucky's fast break and Notre Dame's full-court press crumpled ninth-ranked Kansas, 75-59.

North Carolina and Kansas have two of the biggest, strongest front lines in college basketball, but speed was the name of the game Monday night.

While the previously undefeated Tar Heels were coming off a big victory at Houston Saturday, the Wildcats had been humiliated by Indiana, 98-74.

The visiting Tar Heels jumped to a 31-16 lead before Jimmy Dan Conner piloted a fast break that saw the Wildcats grab a 38-34 by the end of the first half.

Conner's high, arching jump shots kept the Wildcats in front in the second half as the Kentucky senior finished with a career-high 31 points. Kevin Grevey added 16 for Kentucky, while freshman Phil Ford led North Carolina with 18 points.

Kansas, another early victim of Indiana, committed 24 turnovers against the 14th-ranked Irish's press and sophomore forward Adrian Dantley scored 31 points as Notre Dame won its fourth straight game this season.

The victory dispelled rumors the Irish basketball program was in for a rebuilding year after prematurely losing John Shumate and Gary Brokaw to the pros.

Another sophomore forward, Gary Paterno, added 19 points to the Irish offensive, hitting nine of 13 shots from the floor.

Rick Suttle led Kansas with 18 points as the Jayhawks' record dropped to 3-2.

Eighth-ranked Alabama had little trouble with Georgia Tech, rolling to 91-76 triumph as junior center Leon Douglas scored 25 points and hauled in 13 rebounds. Forward Charles Russell added 20 points to the Crimson Tide's third straight victory and Charles Cleveland contributed 14.

No. 16 Purdue rebounded from Friday's loss to California with a 91-87 victory over San Diego State. Center John Garrett and guard Bruce Parkinson each scored 19 points as the Boilermakers improved their record to 3-1.

Will Connelly, a 6-8 sophomore from Brooklyn, N.Y., scored 40 points and grabbed 16 rebounds for the Aztecs.

Mempnis State transfer Marion Hillard scored with 20 seconds left to give the 18th-ranked Tigers a 70-69 victory over Florida State. Hillard finished with 19 points and 20 rebounds.

In other major games, Johnny Davis scored 34 points in leading Dayton to a 90-76 victory over Detroit; Vanderbilt won its fourth straight game with a 95-86 victory over Texas Tech and Illinois senior Rick Schmidt scored 34 points as the Illini defeated Iowa State, 77-71.

Walton stays silent at Blazers' drills

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Bill Walton was on hand Monday afternoon when the Portland Trail Blazers held practice.

He wasn't in practice togs, but in his street clothes he was animated in his conversations with coach Lenny Wilkens during a good part of the workout.

Walton didn't have much to say to newsmen who talked with him.

He said he didn't care to discuss anything in particular about the stories this past week that he was disenchanted with pro basketball. That report came from Walton's friend and personal adviser, Sam Gilbert, a Los Angeles area contractor and adviser to a number of former UCLA athletic greats.

Walton told one newsman he did not feel obligated to speak at this time to remarks made by others about him.

After he finished his discussions with Wilkens about basketball, he sat in a seat in the stands and read a stack of mail that had come to him through the Trail Blazer office. The nature of the mail was not disclosed.

Wilkins acknowledged that he was delighted that the Walton story of the past week was behind them.

"He won't be ready to play tomorrow (Tuesday) night against Atlanta, but he will be back in the lineup as soon as he feels healthy. We all feel Bill can help us get to the playoffs because he is an asset to our club," said the coach.

Just when Walton rejoins practice or game action depends on how quickly he is relieved of the pain of a bone spur near his left ankle. It hurts when he runs or cuts. While the injury is reported not uncommon and not serious, it is said to be painful.

In remarks to newsmen who did approach him, the three-time UCLA All-American either nodded, or choice not to discuss the story last week about his frustrations with pro basketball and his lifestyle at all. He was careful not to be specific about anything dealing with the speculation he was on the verge of quitting the NBA after two months. One club spokesman had said, "Bill really regretted that story getting out."

Tired Leos tumble in San Diego

SAN DIEGO — A wearly La Verne College basketball team, playing its fourth game in five days, committed 23 turnovers en route to an 83-64 loss to the University of San Diego.

The Leopards trailed 51-49 midway through the second half and then suddenly went dead. The Torreros reeled off 15-straight points to take a commanding lead over the Leos, now 3-3 on the season.

All five San Diego starters: Alan Jones (14), Ken Smith (13), Neil Traub (10), Joe DeMaestri (12) and Jim Ferguson (18) scored in double figures for the hosts, now 2-1 on the year.

But it was Ferguson who destroyed the Leo zone as the USD guard hit nine-of-13 shots.

San Diego outscored the visitors from La Verne, 45-31 in the second half and shot a torrid 60 per cent (21-of-35) from the floor. USD wound up 55.7 per cent (39-of-70) for the evening.

The Leos shot fairly well, 26-of-59 from the floor (44 per cent), and were led by center Tim Gillette, who came off the bench to tally 22 points. Gillette, who normally starts but was taken from the lineup for disciplinary reasons, hit 9-of-14 attempts.

The other two Leos to score in double figures, center Bill Rockwood (12) and guard Dave Castenada (10) each shot 50 per cent from the field. Rockwood canned 6-of-12 attempts and Castenada made good on 5-of-10.

The Leos will have five days to recuperate where they'll host Westmont on Saturday.

APC's Cliff Hamlow seeks 400th career victory tonight

Cliff Hamlow hopes to be celebrating his 400th career victory tonight when Azusa Pacific College hosts Whittier College in a rematch of last year's NAIA District Three championship game.

But Hamlow could end up suffering the 200th loss of his basketball coaching career at APC.

Hamlow brings a lifetime 399-199 record into tonight's 8 p.m. tipoff against Whittier at the APC gymnasium.

In the only other college game in the valley tonight, Pomona-Pitzer will entertain Cal Baptist in an 8 p.m. tipoff at the Sagehens' Memorial Gymnasium.

Hamlow, who is in his 21st season of coaching at Azusa, would have enjoyed his 400th victory more last Saturday but Azusa Pacific lost to Biola, 82-81, in overtime in the finals of the Redlands Tournament.

The loss dropped Azusa's season record to 3-1.

Whittier enters tonight's game with an 1-2 mark but the two losses have been to major college foe Arizona State, 103-67, and UC Riverside, 63-59.

Azusa beat Whittier, 75-70, in last year's District Three title game but the Poets still enjoy an 8-5 series edge.

The Cougars have five players in double figures. Forward Ken Lukhard leads the way with a 16.5 average followed by guard Rob Carver (15.5), center Keith Walker (12.7), forward Mike Leatherby (11.8) and reserve center Mike Berry (10.5). Guard Jim Sporleder, the fifth starter, is close behind at 9.5.

Hamlow currently ranks 11th in lifetime victories among the nation's collegiate coaches. Only John Wooden of UCLA and Marv Harshman of Washington are ahead of him on the West Coast.

Pomona-Pitzer (1-4) faces a tough week. After tonight's game against Cal Baptist (3-1), coach Les Nagler's Sagehens host Azusa Pacific Friday night and travel to Southern California College Saturday night.

Cal Baptist enters tonight's game fresh from a third place finish in the Redlands Tournament. The Lancers ripped host Redlands, 91-68, to earn the third place spot.

Kevin Finnerty, a 6-9 junior from Chino, is Cal Baptist's big man.

Sophomore center Geoff Northrop is Pomona-Pitzer's top threat. He is averaging 18.4 points and 11.4 rebounds per game. Forward Brandon Boyd is next with 14.8 points a game.

Garry Stewart and Scott Pease will be the Sagehen guards but Nagler isn't certain yet about his second forward.

USC remains cool despite fast start

College Division honors went to Anthony Autry, a 6-3 forward from Los Angeles Baptist who scored 96 points in three games at the Redlands Tournament for a tournament scoring record. Even though L.A. Baptist lost all four games last week, Autry did his part with 120 points. He was 50 of 92 from the field and 20 of 30 from the foul line.

Other nominees for the awards were La Verne guard Dave Castenada, who scored 54 points and had 20 assists in the Redlands Tournament, and Pepperdine center Marcos Leite, who scored 27 points and grabbed 17 rebounds in 98-81 win over Hastings.

UCLA coach John Wooden was unable to attend Monday's luncheon. The Bruins (4-0) are off this week because of final exams.

Quoting the coaches:

BOB MILLER, Cal State Los Angeles (2-2): "We were down by 18 points at halftime to Fresno State but were able to come back. We scored 19 of 21 times we had possession of the ball in the final 12 minutes and won on Dwight Slaughter's last-second shot. Those final 15 minutes are the only time we've played good basketball all year. We host Baylor University Friday and Buffalo State Saturday at our gym."

GARY COLSON, Pepperdine (3-0): "I mainly want to report the signing of 6-6 forward Adilson Nascimento. He has been on the Brazilian Olympic team and will be eligible in January. He will be a welcome addition to our team. We are in the midst of exams and return to action Friday against the touring Australian national team."

DAVE BENADERET, Loyola (3-3): "I'm not happy with the way our team is playing. Our road trip to Idaho State and Utah was a disaster. Because of our heavy schedule, there has been no chance to really coach or adjust. We're looking forward to some practice time this week before hosting Cal State Fullerton Thursday."

PETE CASSIDY, Cal State Northridge (3-2): "We played in the Rockies at Colorado State, Wyoming and Northern Colorado and our players were dying because of the altitude. We lost the first two games but played well in winning at Northern Colorado. Tom Foulds had a good week in averaging 18 points and 10 rebounds. We have just one game this week against Occidental Friday night."

DWIGHT JONES, Long Beach State (2-2): "We're looking forward to going back on the road. San Francisco ended our 77-game home court streak last week with a 94-84 overtime win. USF is playing very well right now and has an outstanding front line. Our shot selection hurt us. We didn't play with much enthusiasm in our loss to Nebraska in the Sun Devil Classic but came back against Montana the next night. We host Baylor Saturday night."

Rams look at Jaworski in 2nd half

RAMblings — James Harris quarterbacked the first half and rookie Ron Jaworski the second half. It hadn't been planned that way, but Harris had his bell rung the last play the Rams had the ball in the first half.

Each drove the Rams to one touchdown, Harris on a 65-yard, six play series; Jaworski on a 76-yard 11-play series. Lawrence McCutcheon scored on the Jaworski drive. Harris passed five yards to Harold Jackson for the other TD. Harris also used 7:15 to go 42 yards and position David Ray for a 37-yard field goal. Ray later missed a 37-yarder.

Harris completed five of his first six passes but ended with only five of 13 for 66 yards. Jaworski completed seven of 13 for 115 yards. Each was intercepted once. But so was Kilmer.

McCutcheon was the game's leading ground gainer with 60 yards in 17 carries.

The loss was the first at home for Knox after 12 straight wins.

Allen was justifiably proud of his team. "This has been the toughest season ever," the former Ram coach said. "We played a murderous schedule . . . a Thursday (Thanksgiving) game, two Monday night games, four games in 18 days, three games in 11 days and two of those were against Dallas. And we had all types of injuries."

The Redskins lost linebacker Harold McClinton, possibly with a broken leg early in the game and kicker Mike Moseley with a muscle pull on the kickoff. Bragg the punter, kicked the placement and the field goal.

MSAC risks 5-0 record at Riverside

Mt. San Antonio College risks its unbeaten (5-0) record tonight when it visits Riverside City College for a junior college basketball game at 8 p.m.

The Mounties captured their fifth win in a row Saturday night with a 68-53 decision over cross-valley rival Chaffey College. It was the Panthers' fourth loss in a row and they will be looking for their first win in a game tonight at East Los Angeles.

Defending Mission Conference champion Riverside has lost only once in five outings in the young season. Coach Bill Mulligan's Tigers are considered one of the top teams in Southern California.

Riverside captured the Moorpark Tournament championship last weekend with a 73-70 win over Rio Hondo. MSAC beat Rio Hondo last week, 68-64 in overtime.

Sophomore forward George Schader, a 6-6 transfer from Nevada-Las Vegas, has been the dominating force for the Mounties.

He is averaging more than 20 points per game and a dozen rebounds. He has scored 30 points or more in two games.

Following tonight's games, the Mounties complete the week with a game at Citrus College Friday. Citrus (2-2) warms up for the meeting by hosting Santa Monica Thursday. Chaffey is scheduled for games at Ventura Friday and Fullerton Saturday.

Marquez peps Chino in soccer

Ed Marquez booted four goals to pace the Chino Cowboys to a 5-2 soccer victory over Chaffey High Monday afternoon.

Marquez kicked four of his teams goals with Victor Campos adding the final goal.

The Cowboys took a 3-0 first half lead as goalie David Lopez blanked the visitors from Ontario.

Chino is now 3-0 on the season.

Sports news in brief

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A total of 13 players, headed by Wimbledon and U.S. Open Champion Jimmy Connors, won over $100,000 on the Association of Tennis Professionals tour this year, the ATP announced Monday.

Connors topped the list with $285,490 in prize money, followed by Australia's John Newcombe with $248,230 and Argentina's Guillermo Vilas with $226,110. Bjorn Borg of Sweden was the only other player earning in excess of $200,000. Borg earned $200,160.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It will be rookie Tom Owen starting at quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers Sunday, despite Steve Spurrier's return to health.

"I don't want to be quoted," said Spurrier when asked about Coach Dick Nolan's Monday announcement.

Asked whether he believes Nolan is thinking about trading him and thus doesn't want him hurt, Spurrier said, "I don't know anything about it."

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Veteran outfielder Bobby Tolan signed an unusual two-year contract with the San Diego Padres Monday.

Tolan played last season without a contract so was to be paid on the basis of his 1973 pact. However, President Buzzie Bavasi said the contract signed Monday gave Tolan a boost for 1974 as well as setting a figure for 1975.

Terms were not disclosed but Bavasi said they represented "a compromise."

Tolan had threatened to take his case to court, so the signing eliminated possible litigation.

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Argentina's Guillermo Vilas blasted three-time Wimbledon champion John Newcombe Tuesday in a magnificent first day upset in the opening round of the $100,000 Commercial Union Masters tennis tournament.

The stocky 22-year-old Vilas from Mar del Plata made a sensational Australian debut when he swept aside Newcombe, the tournament favorite, 6-4, 7-6.

It's in a recession

Boxscore on economy

By MIKE FEINSILBER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The argument over whether the nation is in a recession was put to final rest by November's economic statistics. It is.

The White House joined economists in and out of government in agreeing that a recession exists, and the dispute shifted to how severe it is likely to be. Some economists said it will be the longest of the post-World War II era.

Unemployment in November reached its highest level in 13 years. On the brighter side, the first faint signs that inflation may be abating became visible.

Reports on the economy stream from the government almost daily. To give the full picture of the tugs and tendencies, here is UPI's monthly boxscore of the latest reports:

Unemployment: Joblessness rose in November to its highest level since 1961. The unemployment rate of 6.5 per cent was sharply up from October's 6 per cent. For the first time this year, total employment declined. The number of jobless reached nearly 3 million. Since October, 1973, the unemployment rate has increased nearly 40 per cent and the number of unemployed by 1.9 million.

Inflation: The Consumer Price Index increased by nine-tenths of 1 per cent in October, the latest month for which figures are available. But the increase for non-food products was six-tenths of 1 per cent, only half as much as the average monthly increase during the first nine months of this year. But October food prices rose at a seasonly adjusted rate of 1.3 per cent — normally the food index declines in October. For the year, the CPI stood at 12.2 per cent over October, 1973.

The index showed prices have risen 33.2 per cent since 1967. Real spendable earnings: With inflation wrung out statistically, take-home pay measured in buying power fell 4.9 per cent from a year ago.

Profits: Corporate profits, adjusted to eliminate the effects of inflation on the value of inventories, rose by $1.1 billion during the third quarter of this year.

Wholesale prices: Indicating some relocation of inflationary pressures, wholesale prices of industrial commodities rose only 1.1 per cent in October. Along with September's rise of 1 per cent, the increase was the smallest for a two-month period in a year despite increases in auto prices. However, food prices continued their ascent, rising 4.7 per cent in October. For the year, the wholesale index rose 22.6 per cent.

Sales: Total sales of manufacturing, wholesale and retail businesses fell by three-tenths of 1 per cent in September, another reflection of the recession. The drop was the first since last December.

Productivity: Revised figures showed output per man-hour fell at an annual rate of 2.4 per cent during the third quarter of 1974. This was the fifth drop in the last six quarters. Unit labor costs — the costs for labor for each unit of production — rose at an annual rate of 13.1 per cent in the third quarter.

Output: The output of factories, mines and utilities fell six-tenths of 1 per cent in October, the first dropoff since last winter's oil boycott.

Trade: Despite the $2.2 billion spent on imported oil — a 7.7 per cent increase in a month — the value of U.S. exports exceeded imports in October by a seasonally adjusted $29.4 million, the first trade surplus in six months. September had seen a $233.3 million trade deficit; in August, the deficit was $1.1 billion.

Indicators: The Commerce Department's composite index of leading indicators — an overall summary of economic activity — showed the economy slumped by 1.3 per cent in October, and by 3.3 per cent in September, a record decline for a single month.

FOOD COSTS FOR NEEDY RISE FASTEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Food costs for needy families, many of whom face a cut in food stamp benefits next March, are rising faster on a percentage basis than grocery bills for more affluent families according to an Agriculture Department report released this week.

The Department's monthly analysis of food bills for families of varying income levels showed the cost of an austere Economy Diet Plan rose to $36 a week for a family of four in October.

The price of the Economy Diet, which is used as the base for setting food stamp allocations, was up 20 cents a week or 0.6 per cent, from September and was $4, or 12.7 per cent, above a year earlier.

The weekly bill for a low Cost diet plan constructed by Agriculture nutritionists was also up 0.6 per cent in October. The cost of a Moderate Cost diet plan, however, was up 0.5 per cent, and the price of a Liberal diet plan was up 0.4 per cent.

All four diet programs, ranging from the bare-bones Economy plan to the costliest Liberal plan, are designed to provide adequate basic nutrition. Costs for feeding families under the four plans vary sharply, however, because the cheaper diets contain fewer and cheaper meats and other high-priced foods.

For October, economists said the Low Cost plan was priced at $45 a week, up 30 cents from September and $5.10, or 12.7 per cent, above a year earlier.

The Moderate Cost plan budget was up to $56.90 a week, up 30 cents from September and $5.60, or 11.1 per cent, above a year earlier. The Liberal Cost plan rose to $69.20 a week, up 40 cents from September and $6.70, or 10.5 per cent, above a year earlier.

Economists said the cost of the Economy plan on a monthly basis for a family of four rose to $156 in October compared with $155.10 in September and $138.40 a year earlier. Under the food stamp program, a four-person household currently is eligible for a monthly allocation of $150 worth of stamps.

The allocation is scheduled to rise to $164 next January 1. But this will still lag behind the cost of the Economy diet, and stamp families will fall further behind if the administration carries out its announced plan to increase the amount of cash most needy people must put up in order to get the stamps beginning next March 1.

Kilowatt use down in state

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Californians used 11 per cent fewer kilowatts during the first nine months of 1974 than expected, according to the president of the state Public Utilities Commission.

The total decline was 2 billion kilowatt-hours in actual power sales by the three major electric utilities in the state compared to the same period last year, Vernon L. Sturgeon said Tuesday.

He attributed the savings to efforts begun in July 1973 to conserve fossil fuels by reducing inefficiency and waste.

Guitarist to give recital at Royce

Guitarist Christopher Parkening will present a recital in Royce Hall, UCLA, at 8:30 p.m. Jan. 10.

He will perform works by Milan, Handel, Scarlatti, Sor, J.S. Bach, Debussy, Satie and Ravel.

Now 25, Parkening first took instrument in hands and began study at age 11. A native of California, he studied interpretation with Gregor Piatigorsky and Gabor Rejto, and in 1964 received a full scholarship to the first master class of Andres Segovia in this country.

Parkening has performed with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, in concert and on television, under Zubin Mehta's baton, and with the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra and the San Francisco Symphony. A fifth recording, of French impressionist music — much of it transcribed by him — will be added to the successful previous four on Angel.

Reserved seats for Parkening's appearance may be obtained now at the UCLA central ticket office, 650 Westwood Plaza, and all Mutual and Wallichs Music City — Liberty agencies.

HAPPY HOUR — Mt. San Antonio College students enact a scene from Charles Gordone's "No Place To Be Somebody," which they will present in the Little Theater at 8 p.m. Thursday and at 2 and 8 p.m. Friday. From left are Ken Artry, La Verne; Otis Reed, Pomona; Tony Davis, San Dimas; and Jackie Stewart, Pomona. The director is Jack Bunch.

County schedules Battle of the Bands

The Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation is now accepting applications for the 16th annual countywide Battle of the Bands. Deadline is Jan. 15.

More than 2,000 applicants qualify yearly for the February auditions in five divisions of competition: Small Stage Band, School Stage Band, Combo, Vocal Soloist, and Vocal Ensemble. Tryouts for choral and dance groups will be conducted at a later date.

Preliminary contests in March and April will be the second hurdle to overcome in order to reach the final competition in the Hollywood Bowl.

All contestants must be between 13 and 20 years of age, non-union, and residents of the county.

Applications and additional information may be obtained by calling the parks and recreation department at (213) 465-3155.

MSAC to stage black comedy by Gordone

Mt. San Antonio College students will present Charles Gordone's black comedy, "No Place To Be Somebody," in the Little Theater at 8 p.m. Thursday and at 2 and 8 p.m. Friday.

The play, set in a New York neighborhood bar, is both humorous and tragic. Mostly drawn from the ghetto, the characters represent all aspects of the seamy Manhattan existence and give vent to love and lust, affection and hatred, ambition and fear.

"No Place" is directed by professional director Jack Bunch, who is a guest on the MSAC campus this term. Besides extensive film and television work abroad, he has worked with Bill Cosby, Frank Sinatra, Louis Armstrong, Howard Keel and others. A writer and choreographer, he has also worked with several civic light opera and summer stock groups.

Tickets will be on sale at the box office. Reservations can be made by calling 595-2111, Ext. 236.

'A Christmas Carol'

Gallery Theater offers yule play

By MAE TATE

The Gallery Theater's production of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" is a delightful fantasy for both young and old during this holiday season.

John Nichols as Ebenezer Scrooge and Duane Thomas as Christmas Present are clearly the most outstanding in the Ontario presentation.

Nichols convincingly portrays the cross old Scrooge, ill-tempered, negative, blustery as the cold northern winds. He bellows in a hollow voice, reflecting his hollow heart, of the functional utility of prisons and death as a positive happening to "decrease the surplus population" while decrying the waste of Christmas.

Marsha White, Thomas and Steve Curci lead the old skinflint through past, present and future holiday seasons, and in the journeys his emotions range from youthful glee to painful memories of love lost to the shadowy dread of death.

Thomas bursts upon the audience in a revelry of energy, snatching a candy cane from a nearby pine branch. He is delightfully charming in his antics, a laughing character with love in his heart and on his rosy face. He stands aside and takes great pleasure in Scrooge overhearing the sharp words about him and the zany games involving the "humbug" personality. The robust Thomas crowns his performance with a rich, resonant baritone voice leading the carolers.

Bob Allen as Marley's ghost, Jack Bradshaw as Bob Crachet, Cande Nichols as Mrs. Crachet and Shannon Ades as Tiny Tim are among the cast of characters who make this presentation a treat for the entire family.

The Gallery's "Carol" echoes the universal theme of brotherhood and love that is personified in the celebration of Christ's birth.

Music Center offers rates for seniors

Senior citizens can purchase tickets to the performance of the Los Angeles Philharmonic for $2.50 in advance of the concert in the Pavilion of the Los Angeles Music Center at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

James Levine, principal conductor of the Metropolitan Opera, will conduct the Philharmonic in a varied program that features violinist Zvi Zeitlin and the Philharmonic's co-principal flutist, Anne Diener Giles.

Levine, who at 31 has achieved stature on the international musical scene, will lead the orchestra in Brahms' Symphony No. 1.

Russian-born, Israeli-raised violinist Zeitlin will play the dramatic, technically demanding Schoenberg Violin Concerto. The artist received much of his musical education in the United States; he was the youngest scholarship student at the Juilliard School of Music, where he studied with Sascha Jacobsen and Ivan Galamian.

The concert will open with a performance of Bach's Suite No. 2 in B Minor for Flute and Strings featuring Mrs. Giles in her Music Center solo debut.

A recipient of a full scholarship to the Juilliard School of Music, where she earned her bachelor's and master's degrees, Mrs. Giles has been a member of the Philharmonic since 1971.

LVC students now holding pottery sale

La Verne College students are now holding a pottery sale in the cafeteria lounge of Davenport Dining Hall. The sale goes to 3 p.m. today and from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday.

More than 200 ceramic pieces, including teapots, planters bowls, plates, lamps, vases and jars are on sale, mostly in earth tones. The artist are members of "Explorations in Forms of Clay," LVC ceramics class.

Also on sale will be wood carvings and plants.

The sale is open to the public.

If your hobby is collecting stamps, then you may already know what the word "philately" (pronounced fih LAT ul ee) means. The name comes from two Greek words that mean "the love of tax-free things."

Postage stamps are receipts showing that the postage, or "tax," has been paid.

Stamp collecting is one of the most popular collecting hobbies in the world. Collecting stamps probably began soon after the first stamps were issued in Great Britain in 1840.

People soon discovered that some stamps were harder to find than others. Today, they pay high prices for stamps that are rare. Some of the most expensive stamps are stamps on which a mistake was made in printing.

Not all people collect stamps because they are rare or special. Many people collect them just for the fun of collecting interesting and unusual stamps.

People who collect stamps are called "philatelists."

A radio, camera, globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

Boy Scout Council seeking used uniforms

Used uniforms of all sizes are needed by Boy Scouts of Old Baldy Council for the uniform bank at the council headquarters, 120 W. San Jose Ave., Claremont.

Scouts from Diamond Bar, Walnut, Chino, Pomona, San Dimas, La Verne, Claremont, Montclair, Ontario, Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga, Etiwanda and Fontana need uniforms.

Members of the Women's Service Board of the council process the uniforms and make them available without cost. Mrs. William F. Montgomery is chairman of the project.

Uniforms may be delivered to the council office on San Jose Avenue east of Indian Hill Boulevard between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Monday through Friday or a member of the service board will pick up uniforms if called at 626-3551.

Singers perform for club

Fourteen members of Cal Poly's University Kellogg Chamber Singers will present a concert for the Wednesday Afternoon Club of San Dimas at a Christmas tea musicale in the home of Mrs. Thomas Gore, 425 N. Iglesia St., San Dimas.

Mrs. Paul Spencer and Mrs. Eric DeMoulin will pour tea at the Wednesday party scheduled at 1 p.m. Hostesses in addition to Mrs. Gore will be Mmes. Bancroft Benner, Donald Haefer, Francis Ellis, DeMoulin, E. J. Vaniman, D. F. Hooper, Felix Giroux, Martha Dent and Alfred Batchelor.

Mrs. Gore will introduce Dr. Charles Lindsley, conductor of the singing group and professor of music at Cal Poly Pomona.

Selections which will be sung around the Christmas tree will include Christmas carols, early madrigals an opera chorus and songs from Brahms, Schubert and Puccini. Dan Bridston will be the accompanist.

Members of the singing group are Don Wallenburg, Mary Heyler, Alice Fachin, Terry Lewis, Deborah Lee, Richard Shea, Vickie Reed, Linda Mattiera, Melanie Chambers, LaRue Palmer, Alice Itson, Barney Path, Jim Lane and Tim Bullara.

Deanery meeting charted

The quarterly meeting of the Ontario Deanery Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held on Thursday at St. Peter and Paul Church in Alta Loma.

Mass will be celebrated at 11:30 a.m. and luncheon will be served by the church's Altar Society.

The Christmas program will be presented by the Alta Loma High School Chamber Singers, directed by Donald Bowers.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Dennis C. Wilson, 987-1153, or with presidents of the various groups in the Deanery.

Zodiac lights

For the person who has everything there is a Zodiac bulb personalized with the sign of his own horoscope. Lighted the bulbs emit a soft orange glow, making them useful for a night light.

New ornaments

Currier and Ives winter scenes are faithfully reproduced in a series of glass Christmas ornaments. These make ideal gifts or stocking stuffers for those who collect ornaments through the years. Six winter scenes, from Corning Glass Works.

MR. AND MRS. LEWIS BIDWELL

Bidwells mark 50 years

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bidwell of Pomona was celebrated at a reception at their home.

The couple was married on Oct. 15, 1924, in Kincaid, Kan., and have resided in Pomona for 17 years.

Among the friends and relatives attending were the couple's two daughters, Mrs. Faye Fitzgerald of Reseda and Mrs. James Strawn of Pomona; five grandchildren, James, Robert, William and Barbara Strawn and Mrs. Lee Peterson of Cerritos; and one great-grandchild, Terry Peterson.

Mr. Bidwell is a retired carpenter and Mrs. Bidwell is employed at Betty Oden's dress manufacturing of Pomona. They have returned from a trip to Kansas.

The annual Christmas tea of the Pomona Valley unit of California Retired Teachers Association is scheduled on Wednesday.

The 2 p.m tea will be at Hillcrest Homes East, La Verne.

Mrs. Lucile Root will lead carol singing and Mrs. Lucille May will read a Christmas story, "The Little Donkey."

The Chancel Handbell Choir of the Claremont United Methodist Church will perform. Directed by Mrs. Jane Weidhofer, the choir is composed of junior high and high school students, Lynn Dallas, Ken Davis, Anne Freudenberger, Joanna Hall, Christi Kilsby, Richard Kilsby, Dawn McCool, Keith McManigal, Rolf Weidhofer and Scott Wray.

Contributions will be collected for the Medical Unit of Villa Gardens, retirement home for teachers in Pasadena.

Tea will be served under the direction of the chairmen, Mrs. Verda Carl and Mrs. Edna Deal. Retired teachers from the Pomona area will serve as hostesses.

Clubwomen plan yule luncheon

"A Special Company" will present a Christmas choral concert Wednesday at Claremont Women's Club, 343 W. 12th St., Claremont.

The 23 women singers are affiliated with the YWCA of Greater Pomona Valley. They perform throughout the year at churches, social and service clubs, women's gatherings and luncheons.

The program will include Christmas carols and selections from England, France, Germany, Spain, the Ukraine, Latin America and contemporary songs from this country.

Directors of the group are Mrs. Marlin Heckman and Mrs. Larry Woodruff. Mrs. Robert Lewis will be the accompanist.

The program will follow a noon luncheon at the clubhouse. Mrs. A. H. Crescenzi will be chairman for the luncheon which will be served by the December group.

The Book Section will meet at the home of Dr. Mabel Hammons Dec. 20 at 10 a.m. for a Christmas party and the reading of "All About Christmas," by the section curator, Mrs. Robert Parker.

A MESSAGE TO CLASSIFIED AD USERS

You are about to invest money for an Ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results. Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and cost less in the long run.

1. Don't Omit The Address

Many out-of-town readers will write you but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. Don't Omit The Phone Number

Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. Don't Use Blind Box Numbers

They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. Don't Conceal The Price

Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.
